Foreword

ON THE WINGS OF PEACE—our theme—symbolizes the hopes and desires of man to overcome the troubled waters of his own time, whether he be searching for peace of mind, peace among the people of his nation, or enduring world peace for all mankind.

Conscious of increased hatreds among mankind in the future, created by the turmoils of the past, students move through the halls of Heights from class to class, day by day, adding their ideals to the hundreds gone by and inspiring those to come, thereby creating the individuality of a school which Fort Worth, Texas, and the United States of America can truly be proud.

This, then, is the story we wish to show, the personality we intend to portray. This is the log of a year at Heights. Let us hope the ideals presented here may be spread through the world on The Wings of Peace.

Dedication

"It is imperative that we, as young adults, be dedicated to the idea that only through a world of strong men—educated men with an awareness of the world and an understanding of mankind—can peace be secured. Each individual, in striving toward this goal, must have power, strength, and peace within his heart and mind.

"Ask yourself in all situations: 'This I do today—where will it lead me ten years from now?' Today builds tomorrow! A nation without vision perishes; youth without vision perishes. We must be acutely aware of the future and have confidence in our abilities. You can if you think you can."

This is the Kathryn Garrett whom you know intimately as a teacher, as a discerner of the times. This is the teacher who organized and directs the Young Citizens' Forum for American Ideals. These are the reasons she best exemplifies the essence of our theme—On the Wings of Peace. We the student body of Arlington Heights High School, with sincere delight, dedicate the 1961 Yellow Jacket to Miss Kathryn Garrett.

The office staff of Arlington Heights High School works rapidly and efficiently, resulting in a highly organized body of faculty and students. The capable staff executes routine tasks and then devotes its time to aiding students and teachers with special projects.

Many daily jobs are handled by student office-girls. These girls devote their study-hall period to helping the office staff by taking messages, answering the phone, and selling school supplies.

Working together with the office staff, the counseling department spends the school year aiding and guiding students in their subject choices for the future.

The Board of Education of the Fort Worth Public Schools includes Mrs. Carey H. Snyder; Mr. Lloyd L. Turner; Mr. Atwood McDonald, vice-president; Mr. William Potts, president; Dr. James N. Walker, secretary; Mr. Roy J. Brooks, and Dr. Abe Greines.

As always, there is plenty to do in the office; Mrs. Dodrill, Mr. Pegram and Lucinda Pease are attending to a busy morning's work.

English is the largest department at Heights. Eleven teachers supervise their students in literature, composition, and grammar. Pupils highlight their classes by writing books, plays, poems, and making illustrated notebooks and posters.

Rapid-learning English classes construct outside projects as well as doing required assignments.

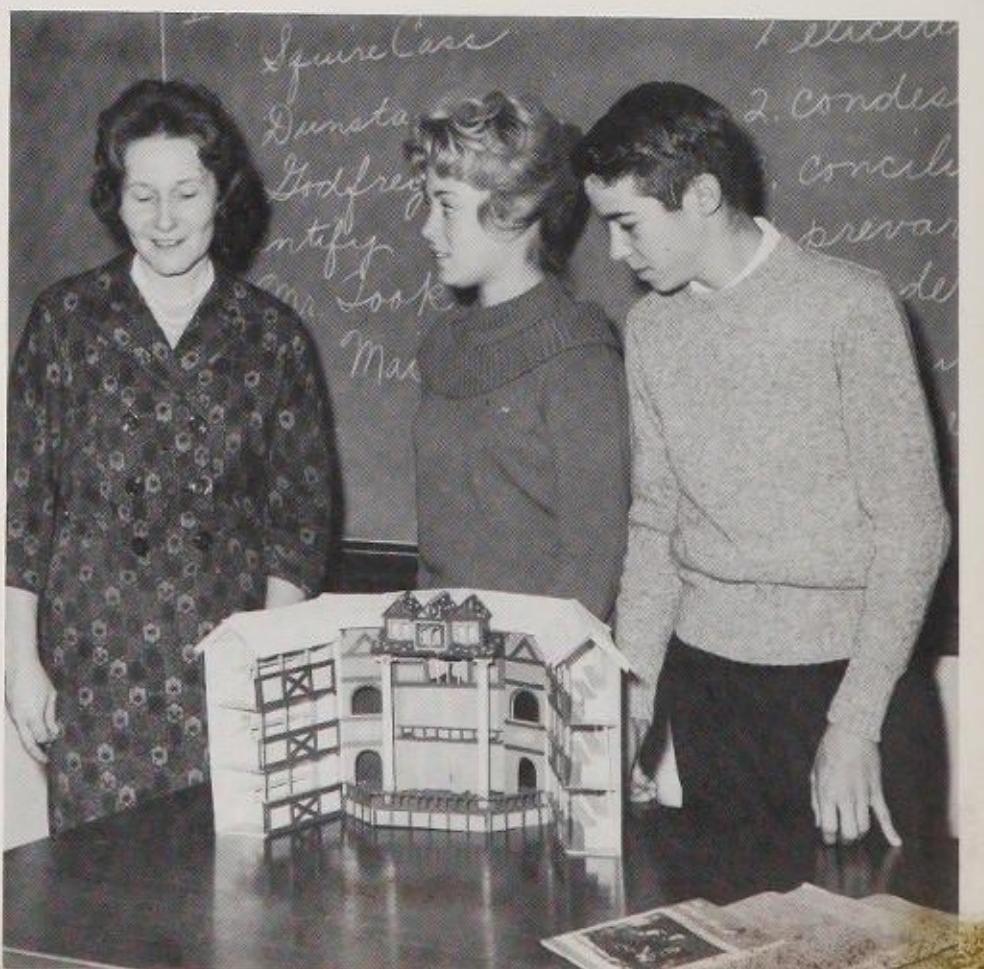

Ten of these eleven teachers are members of the Fort Worth Council of Teachers of English. Mrs. Anne Ayala is president of this city-wide council which meets to study as a group the state-wide and nation-wide trends in English instruction.

German Adds Flavor

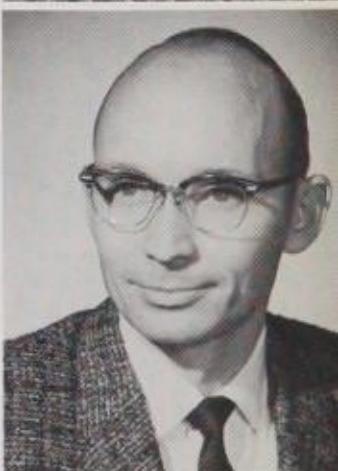

A new language has come to Heights. Last year pupils studied Latin, Spanish, French and Bible, the spiritual language. Now because of the avid interest shown by many students, German has been added.

Students begin their study of German by using tape recorders to learn pronunciation. Then, as in other foreign language classes, basic grammar is taught.

ROTC Marches Towards Peace

Battle Group Staff

S/Sgt. Herman A. Wood, Mrs. Mary Lynn Foust and M/Sgt. Leon McDuffie smile happily over All-City Colonel, Jerry Lowe.

The ROTC unit of Heights worked enthusiastically this year toward the future security of our nation under the able guidance of their commandants, M/Sgt. Leon McDuffie and S/Sgt. Herman A. Wood, by training in military drill, organization, marksmanship, weapons and first aid.

Jerry Lowe, for his outstanding ability in leadership and knowledge of ROTC, was selected All-City Colonel making this the second consecutive year that a Height's student has won this honor.

Sponsors

J. Lowe, Guidon. Gridley McKim, sponsor; Terry Hastings, commander. First Row: P. Mansir, C. Eyler, M. Stephens, R. Corbin. Second Row: R. Taylor, R. Stokes, F. Pankey, T. Jordan. Third Row: D. Pendery, R. Schurter, R. Bow, M. Fisher. Fourth Row: B. Hall, J. Jett, W. Weinecke, B. Bohannon. Fifth Row: J. George, T. Gish, S. Stone, G. Moses. Sixth Row: A. Moore, E. Collinsworth, E. Cave, C. Finefrock. Seventh Row: S. Hoffman, A. Robbins, J. Cano, K. Stokes. Eighth Row: J. Schaffer, J. Cush, R. Stegall. Ninth Row: G. Burg, A. Henderson.

The group of some 180 boys plus the sponsors well represented Heights by participating and winning in City and State wide drill competition. They marched in the Veteran's Day parade, performed at Open House and ushered at home football games.

Adding to the gayer side of their hard-working activities were the individual company parties given by the sponsors at their homes: the Battle Group Parties held in the armory, the annual Christmas Ball and the Spring Formal and picnic.

Chosen by a group of unprejudiced officials at the Christmas Ball and crowned at the Spring Formal as All-City Queen was Sandy Barnes, the first sponsor from Heights to win this honor.

Worthington, A. Yielding.

As James O'Neill wonders what to do, other ROTC boys and sponsors study.

Bill Bevill and Melinda Mayo pause from dancing at the ROTC Ranch Day party.

Jerry Lowe presents All-City Queen, Sandy Barnes, with a bouquet of roses at the Christmas Bell.

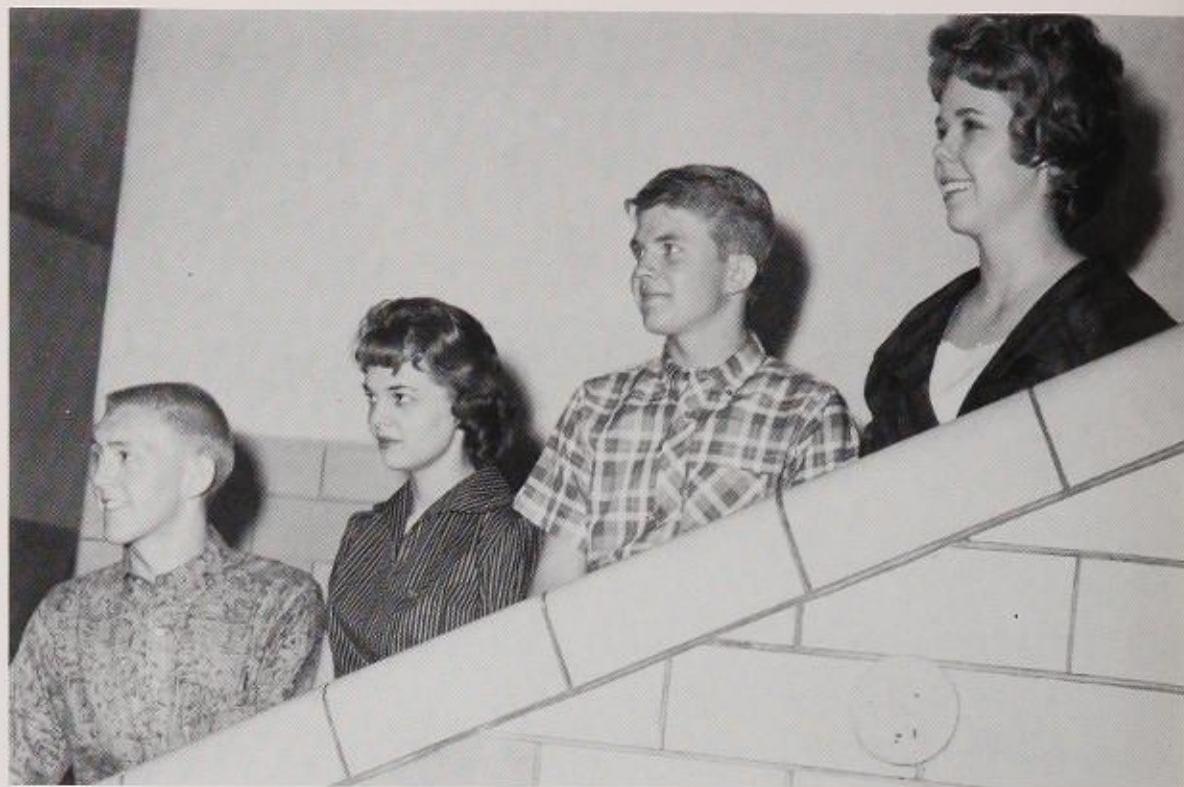

"Career Nights" Aid Heightsters

Student Council

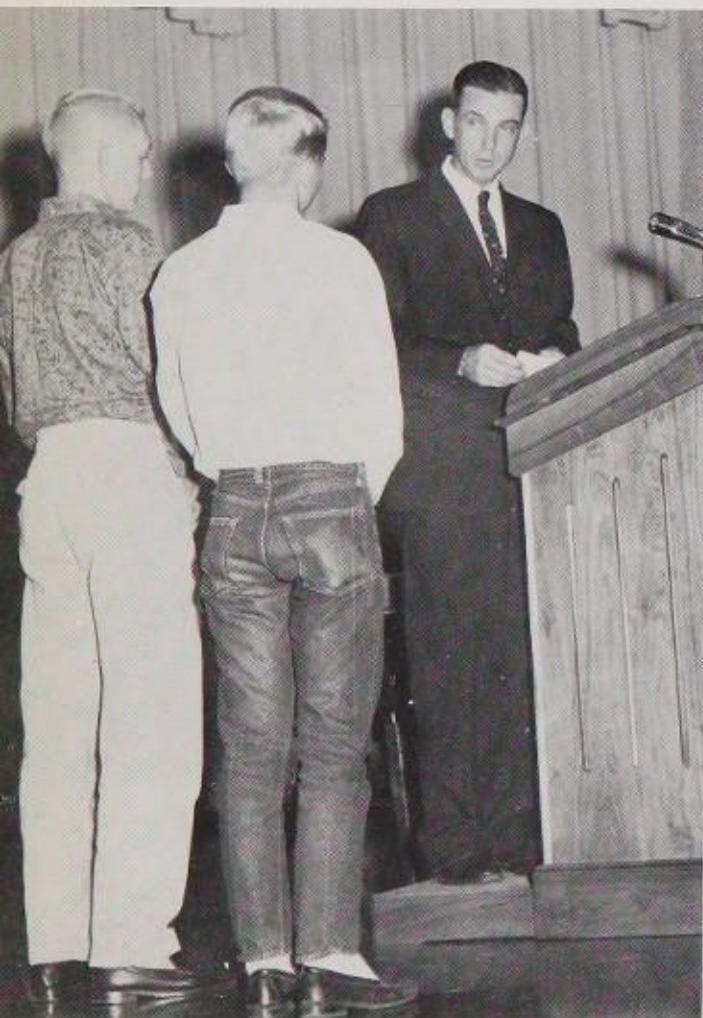

"To be or not to be, that is the question" asked by many Heights students looking toward a future career. The student council, nucleus of school life and government, came to the rescue of the searchers by setting up a series of three "career night" prevoes to be held during the year. Men and women from various professions spoke to the students on the possibilities and probabilities of their fields.

Included in the council's other activities were the compiling of that priceless student handbook, the Valentine's dance, lunchroom cleanup, the purchase and decoration of Heights first flocked Christmas tree, the homecoming decorations, and support of the student body with the selling of streamers, bookcovers and decals.

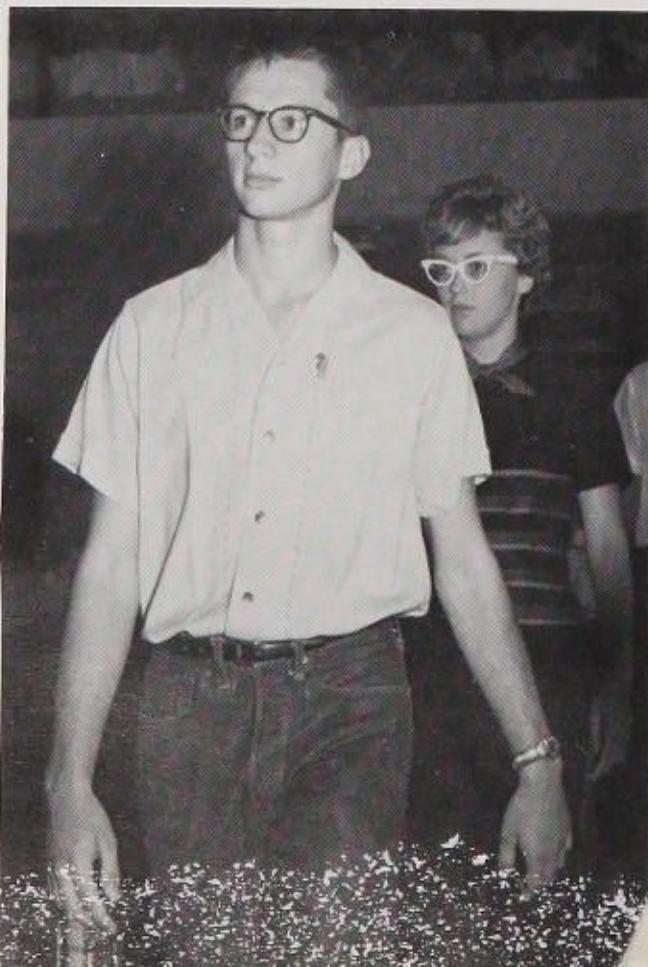

Sponsors Mrs. Leota Nation and Mr. Nick Ruggieri guide the council in their many contributions to the welfare of Heights.

Leaders of the student council are Sammy Day, president; Mary Ellen Goode, secretary; Jim Lane, vice-president; and Nancy Jennings, treasurer.

Dr. James N. Walker informs Sammy Day and Jim Lane of their responsibilities as student council officers.

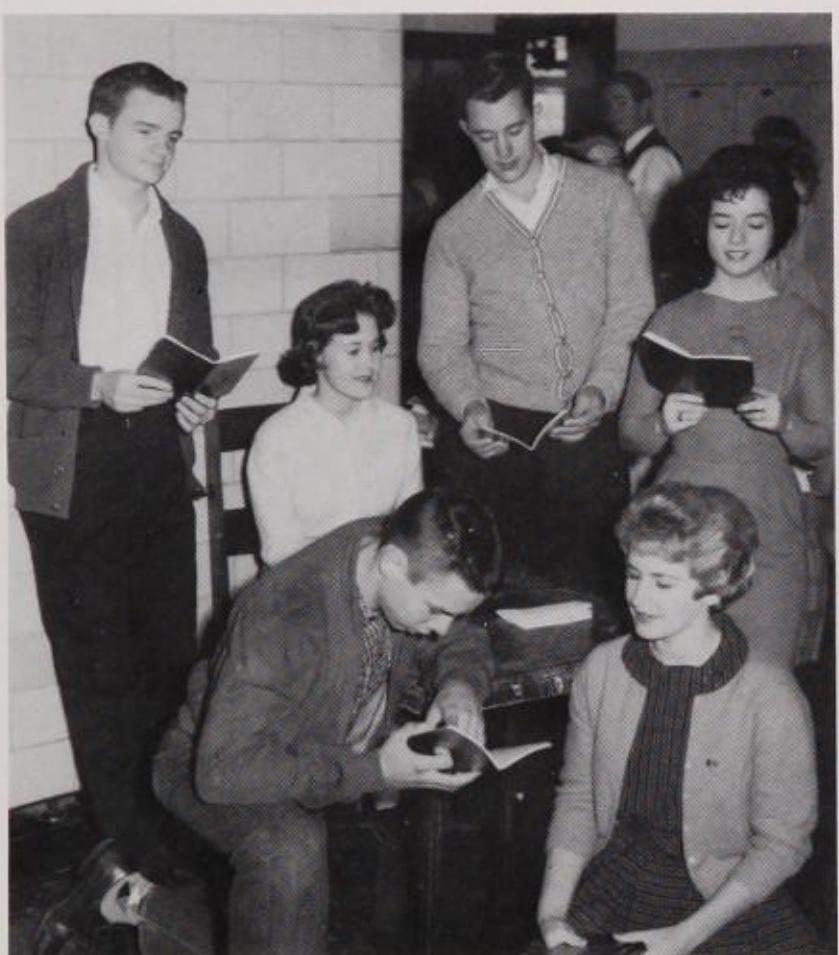

Councilmen John Higley and Carol Hendrickson file down the aisle to their seats during the installation program.

Sponsors Mr. Ruggieri and Mrs. Nation are poring over some work in the counseling office.

Promotion Committee: Janice Mottet; Nancy Jennings, chairman; Pat Owen, and Susan Rhodes support their school in funds and spirit by selling bookcovers, streamers and decals. Not pictured: Mary Green and Ronnie Koslow.

Handbook Committee: Admiring their finished product are Vince Hendrick; Joe Lowke; Jan Haley, chairman; Charles Ellet; Sandy Barnes, and Roxee Calinson. Not pictured: Sandy Davis.

Flower and Card Committee: Cynthia Smith; Jane Taliaferro; Margwen Murphy, chairman; Wanda Trussell, and Jo Marie Lilly check over the most recent "thank you" and "get well" cards.

Decoration Committee: Putting the final touches on the 1960 Christmas tree are Sonja Elam, chairman; Suzie Senevey; Tommy Fisher; Beverly Browning, and Laurie Bozeman. Not pictured: Cheryl King and Herbert Dickey.

Election Committee: Pam Ray laughingly exclaims, "I'd hate to do this without an adding machine!" Ivan Thornton; John Paul Wood, chairman; Sara Males; Susan Philbin, and Barbara Stone make sure there are no mistakes.

Making big plans for the auditorium programs are Program committee members Carolyn Evans; Mary Joe Goetzke; John Higley; Jim Lane, chairman; and Maxine Hunnicutt. Not pictured: Donna Perrone.

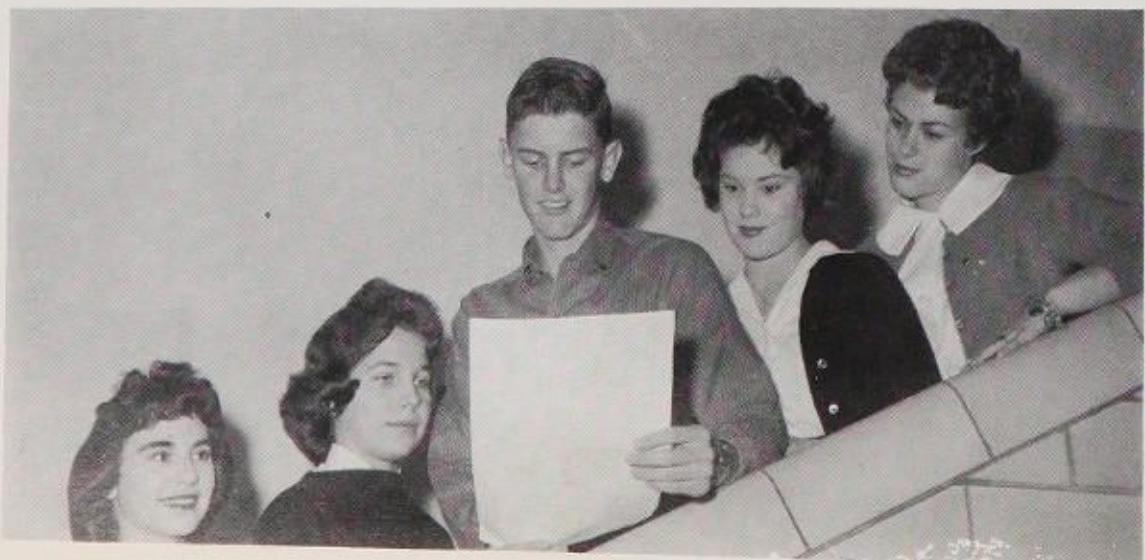

"Well, hello there!" exclaims Charles Kendall to sophomore Lynda Lathan. Other members of the Hospitality Committee—to see that new students find their way around—are Martha Trickey, Donna Caveness, Larry Allen, Courtney Cheney and Larry Young. Not pictured: Camilla Thompson, chairman, and Ella May O'Bannon.

Johnny Reinhart is telling Jimmy Abshire about the Valentine's dance while Nancy Brown and Judy Lawson plan decorations. Other members of the Social committee are Susan Scott, chairman; Heather Holden, and Cathy Collier.

"The things people lose nowadays!" murmurs Sandy Barnes, chairman of Claims committee, as she, Paula Barksdale, Laura Hamilton, Bill Sayre and Nelda Dyer sort "misplaced" articles.

Sherry Shade; Judy McGarrah; Doyle Murray, chairman; Caroline Dickey, and Jan Witherspoon check the list for "special projects." Not pictured: Barry Liljestrom.

Young Citizens At Work

A new organization at Heights this year, the Young Citizens' Forum for Better American Ideals, has proved to be one of outstanding potentiality. A group of this kind has long been sought by students who desire to express their opinions and feelings on the Communist situation.

A steering committee and forty charter members, with the aid of sponsors Miss Kathryn Garrett and Mr. William Bransford, organized the club and planned the programs for each month. Approximately 100 students attended each meeting. Programs have included discussions on troubled areas in the world and featured outside and student speakers alike.

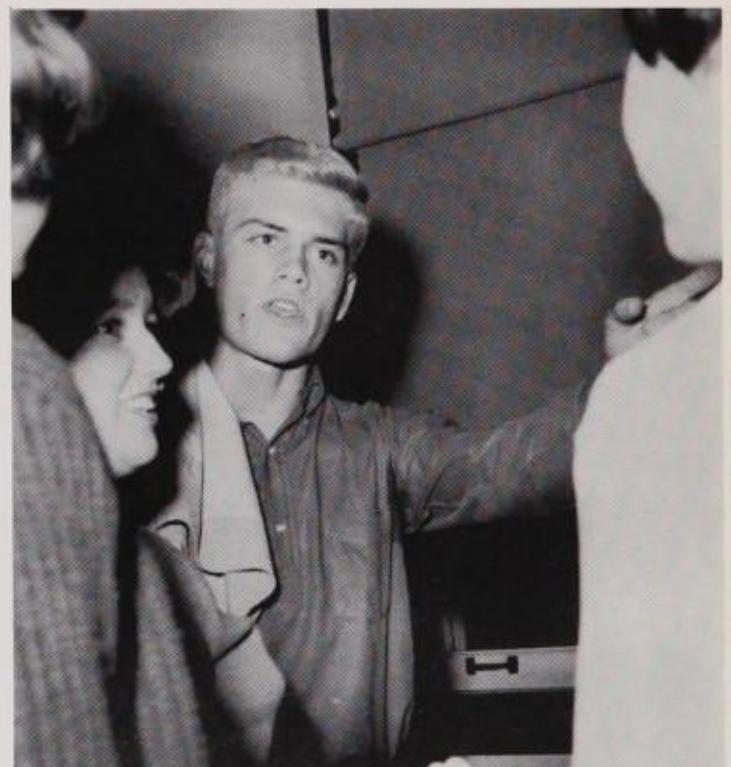

The Club's motto: "Self-discipline is the price of freedom."

Furnishing leadership for the newly organized club are Jimmy McCarroll, vice-president; Mary Lou McCreless, president; sponsors Mr. William Bransford and Miss Kathryn Garrett; and Kay Sealy, secretary.

Not only students but also parents show interest in the Young Citizens' Forum; Mr. McCreless explains observations of Black Africa.

Jeff Jarvis exercises his right as a free American to say what he believes. Jo Marie Lilly and Gridley McKim join him in a not uncommon after-meeting debate.

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America"

AY Challenges Heights

Heights Allied Youth, an organization which presents the facts about alcohol and its results, won national recognition by being the largest post in the United States.

Booming enthusiasm and membership enabled Heights to send eight qualified members to the Allied Youth Convention at Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania. Films of this trip were shown immediately preceding the AY Talent Show in which Heights students demonstrated their many abilities. AY also presented the "lovely ladies" of Heights in the annual male beauty contest.

Officers Nancy Rogers, Jonathan Houp, Jeff Jarvis, and Libits Potter and sponsors Mr. James York and Miss Grace Becker look back on year's activities in AY scrapbook.

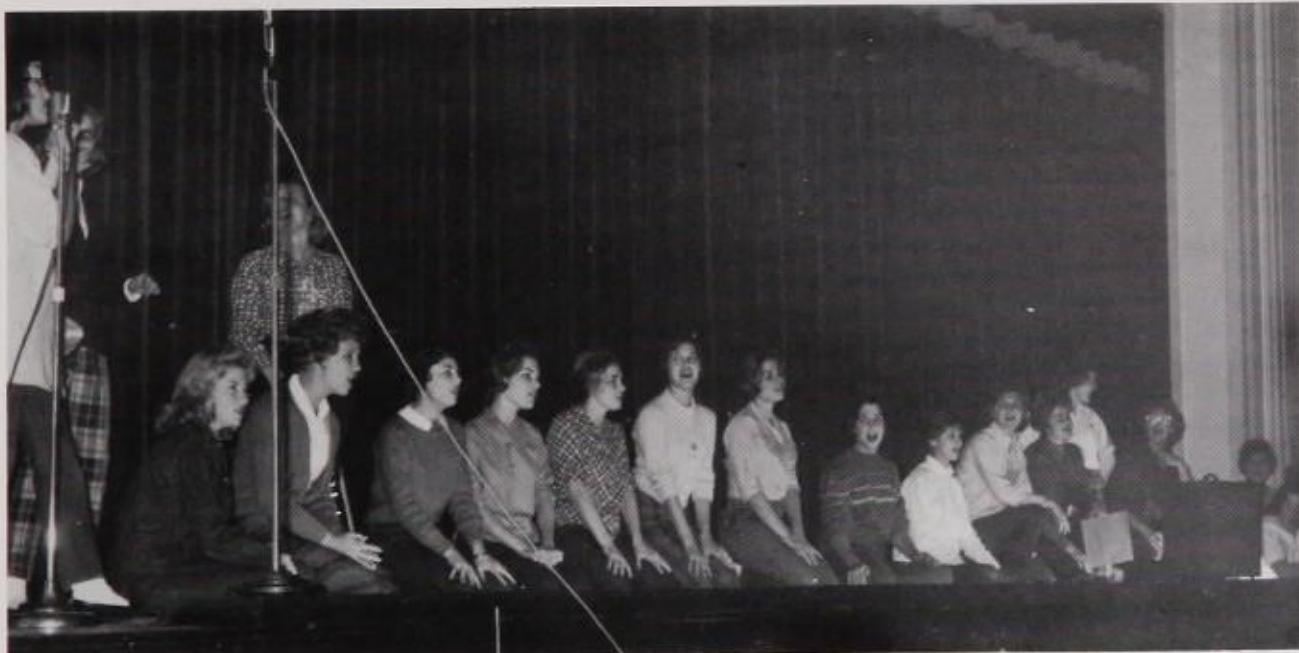

"Who invited him?" demands Mardie Fisher of Buck Hill Falls delegates, Jo Marie Lilly, Nancy Rogers, Judy Mason, Carole O'Dell, Paul Mansir, Libits Potter, and Nancy Jennings.

Putting up AY posters is a regular job for Ronnie Luedtke.

A group of senior girls joined in an act, singing their version of "There Is Nothing Like A Man."

"Blue moon" . . . croons Loretta Tubb at the AY Talent Show.

ASK ANY GIRL

"Take it again from the top," shouts Mr. Charles Beseda during rehearsal of "Ask Any Girl." The light comedy, produced by The Jacket Footlight Players, made its appearance after four weeks of concentrated rehearsals.

The play gave drama-minded students a chance to improve and display their talents. Interest in the production was motivated by the annual sunrise breakfast and rewarded by a cast party held after the last performance.

Discussing the fall project are officers Sandra Barnes, sergeant-at-arms; Frances Foster, secretary-treasurer; Mary Green, president, and Alida Selby, vice-president.

Jacket Footlight Players

"Drink Vita-Cola," croons confident Bob Patton to a disgusted Diana Yankee.

"Alvin, you make me ill," screeches Dianne Garrett at deflated Bill Magers. Absorbing the humorous scene are Nancy Nix and a "cool" Pat M-Catroy.

Could he be saying, "City Morgue?" question Sherry Whitehead, Barrie Tolson, and Pat Mullins as they "eaves drop" on Stanley Stones's informant.

"Stab! . . . Just one more time," pleads make-up head Vicki Clark to 'Lisa', Janet Jones as costume head Sylvia Raschke review her costume.

"Now look . . . Get that cow out of there!" emphatically states director Charles Beseda to sound technician Richard Wackerbarth.

27 Win Gold Pins

The club with the "J" for Jacket offers innumerable opportunities to all students of Arlington Heights to be recognized for their abilities in scholarship, leadership and service during their high school careers. Membership is a distinct honor.

Each Heightster—sophomore, junior, senior—is first checked on scholarship to determine candidacy, but his accomplishments in leadership and service affirm his membership.

Begun and carried on by Dean of Women, Miss Kathryn Haden, the "J" club continues to develop future horizons in responsibility.

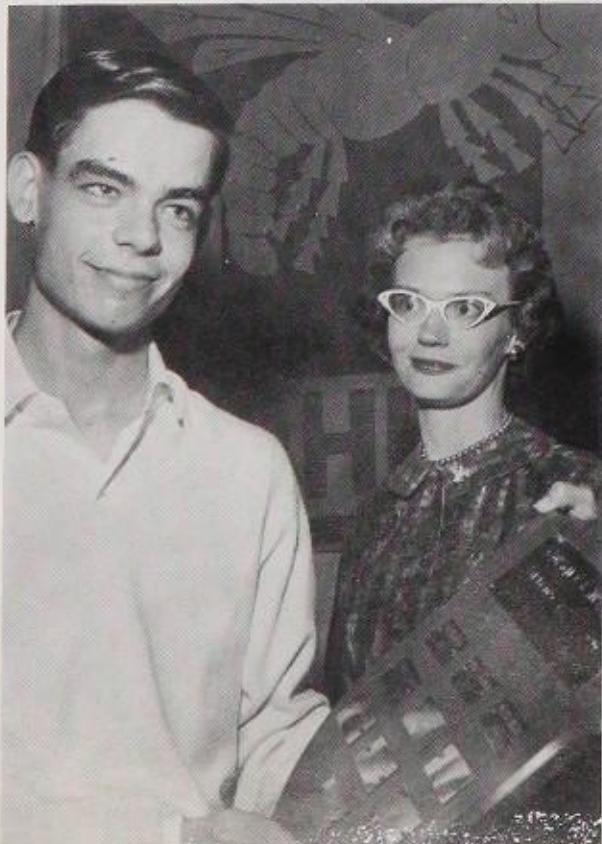

Three year "J" club members

Top Senior Boy Wins Fahrenkamp

To the senior boy most outstanding in scholarship, leadership and service the Edmund Fahrenkamp Award is presented each year. The winner is selected from the top five senior boys in "J" club by a class committee from the class of '51.

The award is given in memory of Edmund Fahrenkamp, who was the first president of the "J" club, band captain, assistant band director, ROTC officer and on the Jacket Journal and Yellow Jacket staffs. For his services he won many honors and awards. Edmund Fahrenkamp award is representative of the type of better citizens which Heights is producing for the future.

FTA Strives Toward Teaching Goal

Founded with the purpose of preparing students for future careers in teaching, FTA has completed another year with sponsors Miss Dona Stovall, Mrs. Elva Lerret, and Mr. Ray Dyche. Activities included monthly meetings which often featured speeches, given by special guests from nearby colleges, and a Christmas banquet. Also, many members attended the state-wide TFTA convention which was held in Denton in March. By visiting other schools and classrooms to observe teaching techniques, the students gained an even greater insight into the teaching profession.

Miss Stovall smiles happily as she discovers the "apple" surprises from FTA which await each teacher for Open House.

These were the officers for this year. First row: Mary Lou McCreless, president; Mary Frances Bishop, historian. Second Row: Kathy Propper, vice-president; Wanda Trussell, treasurer, Pat Mullins, secretary.

Sponsors Miss Stovall, Mr. Dyche and Mrs. Lerret listen attentively throughout FTA meetings.

Book Reviews Highlight Meetings

Library Club

At work during their free periods are members of the Library Club who appear to be almost deputized as assistant librarians by their sponsors, Mrs. Mary Hood and Mrs. Emily Bigham. These library helpers mend and shelve books plus check them out to Heights students.

Meetings are usually held once every month and are highlighted by frequent book reviews and short biographical sketches of famous authors presented to the group by the members themselves.

The club was represented at both the District and State Teenage Library Conventions. The climax of the year came with a spring luncheon which honored the Library Club seniors.

Checking out books are officers Ann Blocker, treasurer; Kay Sealy, president; and Suzie Senevey, vice-president. Sharon Thompson, secretary, is not pictured.

Tri-lit

Members Express Creativity

Tri-Lit, sponsored by Mrs. Leota Nation, enables its members to express themselves by writing creatively while finding hidden meaning in prose and poetry.

The writing club, which is now in its third year, has three main goals: appreciation of good writing, apprenticeship and authorship. Booklets compiled by the members and containing samples of their own work were given to each girl as a climax of the year.

Officers were Carol Carlson, president; Sally Norris, vice-president, and Gridley McKim, secretary-treasurer.

Discussing future plans for Tri-Lit are Nancy Jennings, Gridley McKim, Patricia Hanev, Sally Norris, Jacqueline German, while Carol Carlson, Nancy Cooper, Georgia Monroe, Linda Rothwell and Vicki Clark offer their opinions.

DE Learns

Better Business

The members of Distributive Education are regularly enrolled students who spend three periods a day in classes and the rest at a job in one of the city's business firms. In their jobs they endeavor to apply the knowledge learned in the classes of Mrs. Lay.

The aim of D. E. being, "the development of a high degree of leadership and citizenship in the students of today who are destined to take their places as tomorrow's leaders in distributive business."

Sponsor: Mrs. June Lay

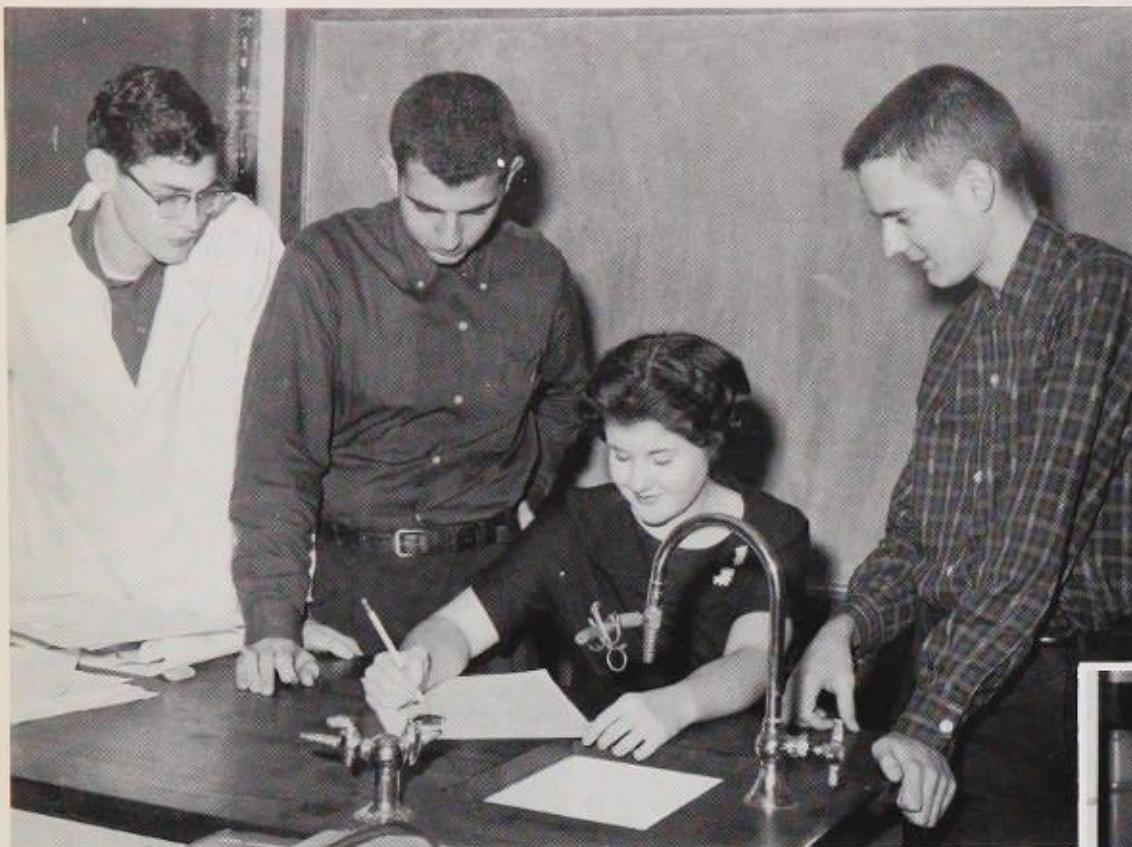

At the D. E. breakfast officers—president, Jack Stallings; vice president, Linda Zodin; secretary, Linda Wilson; treasurer, Tena Merrick; historian, Pat Duncan—plan year's activities.

Sweetheart, Maxine Clayton, was chosen by fellow D.E. members.

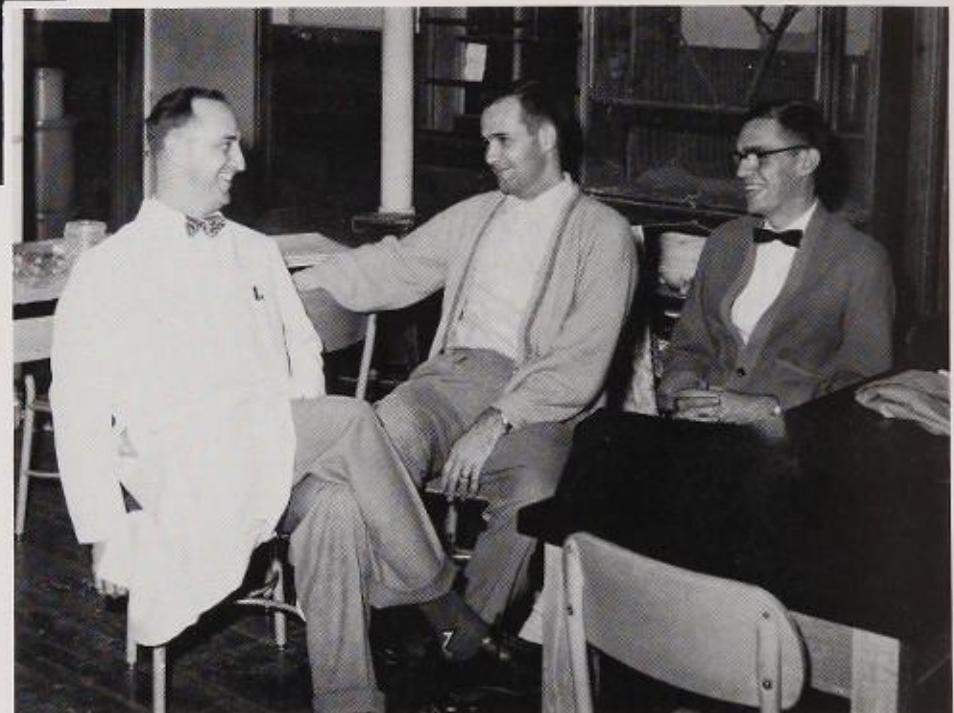

Heights Scientists Are No Amateurs

Officers Jimmy Joiner, parliamentarian; Lee Eppstein, vice-president; Anna Harkins, secretary-treasurer, and Bill Butler, president, plan the evening's program.

Having developed an outstanding reputation in the field of science, members of the Heights science club are no amateurs. Each year students enter winning projects in the Regional Science Fair in March, and several ambitious members in the club's history have copped both state and national awards for their work.

Giving advice and encouragement to these science enthusiasts are Mr. Flavin Arseneau, Mr. Arch Van Meter and Mr. Bob Phillips. These three men spend many extra hours in the biology and physics labs.

Mr. Anseneau just told a "funny", much to the amusement of other sponsors, Mr. Van Meter and Mr. Phillips.

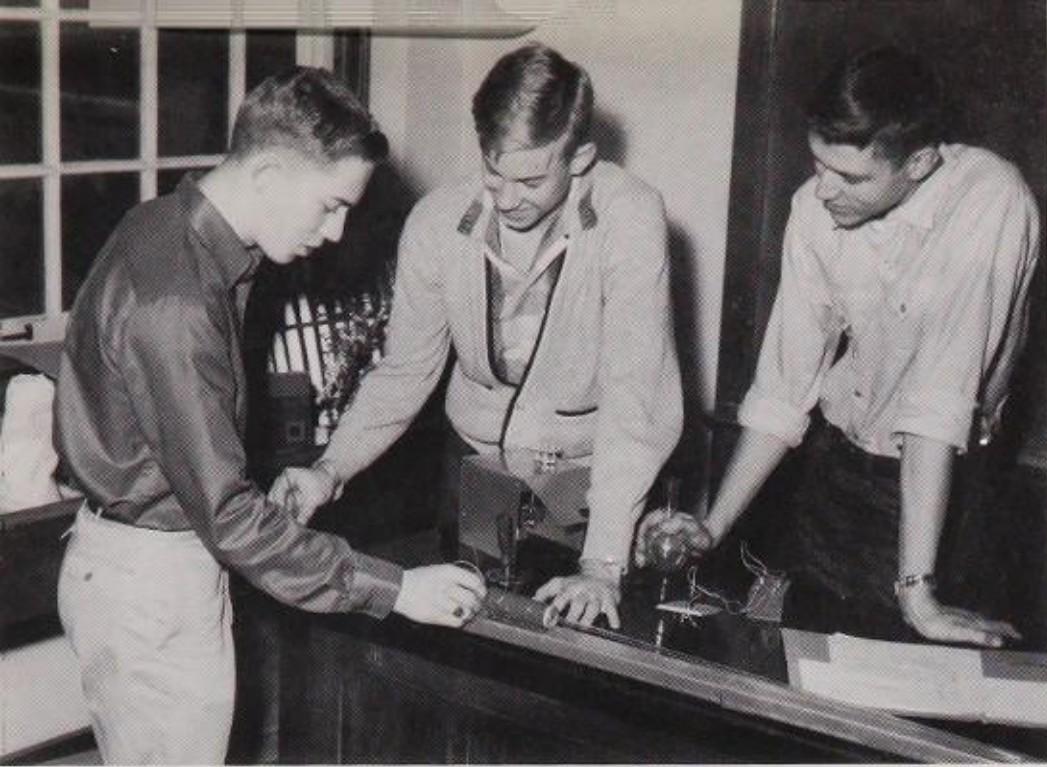

Jimmy Joiner nonchalantly stabs a defenseless mouse while Linda Kay Fine and Alice Pelton watch goggle-eyed.

Mad scientist Philip Anthony is examining frog eggs.

"What do you mean our eggs need salt?" laugh Jiannina Fox and Pat De Vries.

"Sure, I understand perfectly," comments Jearl Walker to Bill Pelton.

"Well, you see, it works this way," explains Mike Myers to Bill Pelton and Glenn Pense.

In December Anna Harkins and Jimmy Joiner brought honors to themselves and to Heights by placing first and second respectively, with speeches on last year's projects at the Texas Academy of Science meeting at TCU.

A banquet for the installation of officers and presentation of club pins, a Christmas party and an annual-signing party kept the club from having only activities of "all work and no play."

Lee Eppstein tunes in his communications system.

FNA

Students Prepare for Careers

Future Nurses of America is an organization which introduces students to the field of nursing as a prospective career. Meeting once a month with sponsor Mrs. Mary Fisher, some thirty members participate in various activities which inform them on the duties and requirements of a nurse.

A trip to Harris Hospital, speeches made by a faculty representative and student nurse from St. Joseph's and a Red Cross demonstration of artificial respiration kept the girls busy. Highlights of the year were the Christmas banquet at CAFB and the February trip to the Corpus Christi convention where FNA members entered their school scrapbook in the state contest.

Examining a chart of club activities are FNA officers Jeanette Mottet, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Mary Fisher, sponsor; Lynda Rothwell, president, and Marilyn Harris, vice-president.

JRC Fills Chests For Needy

Beverly Browning, Nancy Rogers and Kay Keller busily count the day's receipts from the fund drive. Paul Mansir seems to be supervising.

The Junior Red Cross council at Heights this year succeeded in gaining enough money to fill two chests for underprivileged children in various parts of the world.

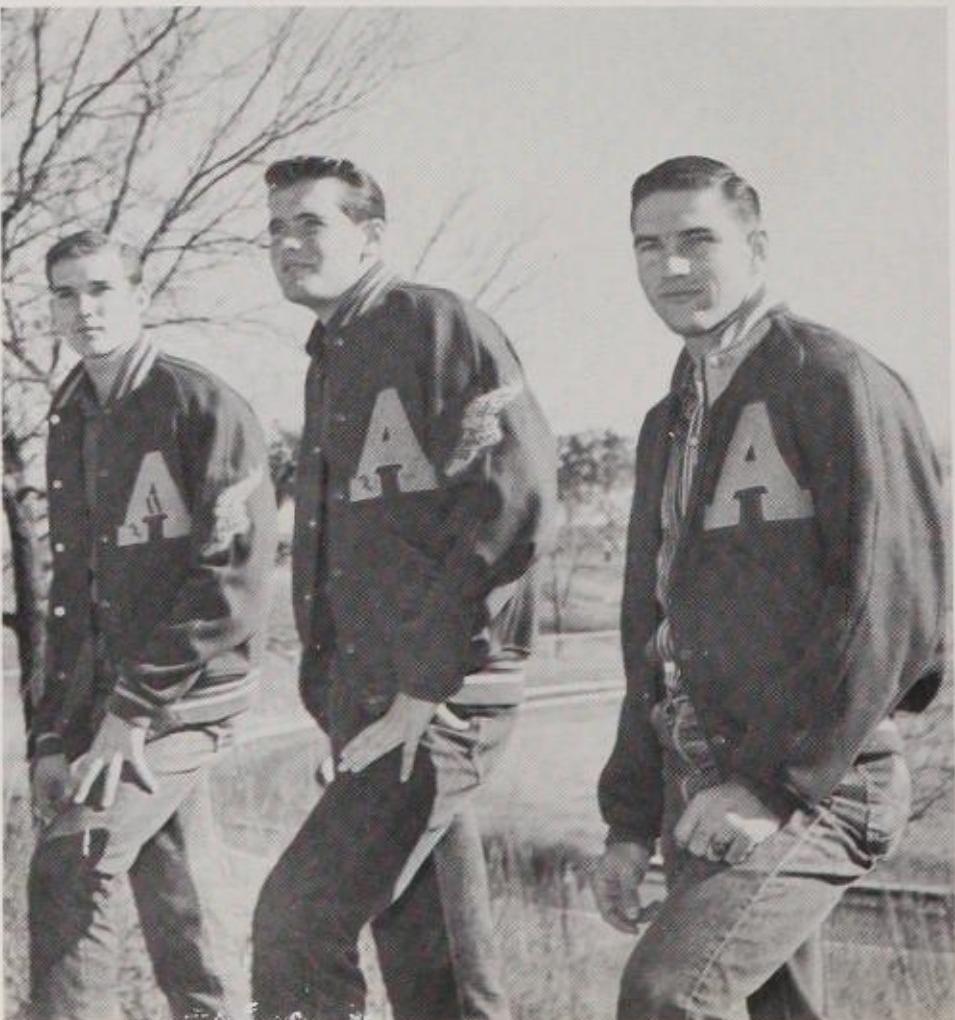

Representatives from each homeroom to the council, where activities are planned, generally are alternate student councilmen. Officers for the present year are Paul Mansir, president; Beverly Browning, vice-president; Kay Keller, secretary, and Nancy Rogers, treasurer. Mrs. Flossie Poston and Mr. Marvin Miller act as sponsors for the organization.

"A" Club

Movie Highlights Activities

The main project of the "A" Club this year has been the planning and staging of its second midnight movie held on February 24. Profits from the activity were used to purchase athletic equipment.

Organized specifically for promoting pleasant associations between lettermen and to better the athletic department, the "A" Club is in its second year of revival, having been dropped five years ago. The club serves as an inspiration for athletes to attain higher goals in their particular sports.

Officers for the year were Jerry Brock, John Chambers, and Larry Allen.

Literary Magazine

Springtime brought the third annual visit from friend Jabberwocky, Heights own literary magazine. Hatched from the dream of Sam Hudson, first editor of the Jabberwocky, the magazine reflects a spirit of the "school on the Hill".

Newest attraction for the Jabb was a contest for the best one-act play written by a student. A prize was in store for the "Shakespeare" presenting the winning entry.

Heightsters created masterpieces in poems, short stories and drama for publication in the Jabberwocky. A staff of approximately thirteen students, headed by Walter Martin and Nancy Jennings, made the final selection of articles to appear in the magazine. Sponsor Mrs. Emily Lunday was always there to help her staff build the Jabb's nest.

Heels over head for the Jabb go editors Walter Martin and Nancy Jennings.

Jabb Watches Over Brood

Jacket Journal

It's "D Day"—Wednesday. The Jacket Journal staff is calmly running in circles, for today all the pictures, copy and ads must go to the printer's in order that Heightsters will receive their bimonthly paper on time. The award winning "JJ" is the silent man around Heights. It always seems to be the first to know any scoops, sensations or winners of contests.

The paper is produced by the journalism classes of Mrs. Emily Lunday. For a student to be a member of these classes he must have an A or B in English. The staff is chosen from these on a competitive basis.

In appreciation for their sweat, labor and blood the students of AHHS salute the journalism department and thank them for keeping us in the know and on the go.

Enthusiastically, sponsor Mrs. Emily Lunday pecks away at the linotype machine.

Hard-working co-editors Ann Kuntz and Walter Martin seem to put in thirty hour days getting the "JJ" to the press on time.

Bob Patton, Shirly King, Shirley Baldridge and Lyndall Russell try their hand at the "Hell-box" which melts the lead to make type.

"Now boys . . . don't be nervous," instructs Monty Crow as Ted D'Andriole, Richard Christopherson, Butch Montgomery, Dennis Ashmore and Victor Ellsworth study the make-up boards.

Following the "Do it yourself" policy are Nancy Jennings, Vicki Clark, Joan Hoecker and Judy Lennox.

"We wouldn't want to say anything, Raleigh, but don't you think this is the hard way of printing the paper?" ask Richard Nelson, Lillian Joe, Mike Gale and Gary Gray of Raleigh Brickell.

"Cameras, cameras everywhere, but nary a strip of film!"—Robert Winnick.

YJ Manifests Mature Trends

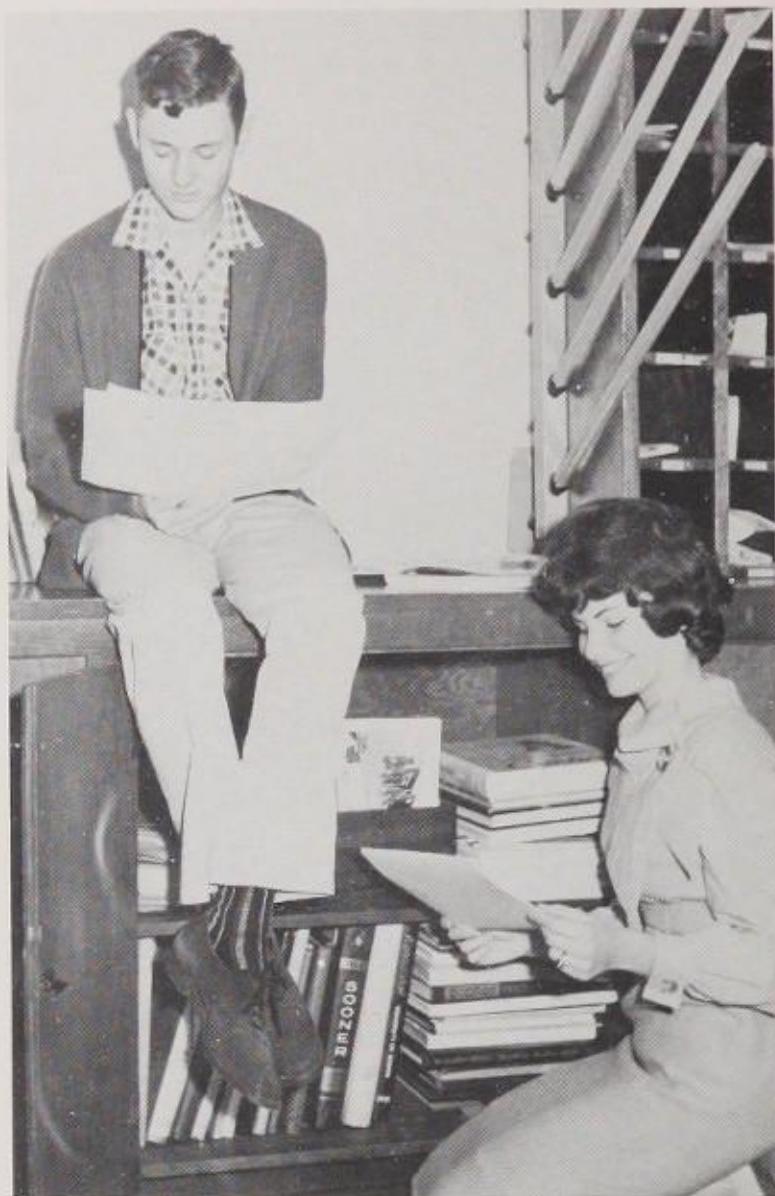

The idea of peace as a focus for our yearbook was discovered in an annual from the Naval Academy at Annapolis by Yellow Jacket editors, Kay Padgett and Bob Hiett while attending the A & M workshop last summer. Chosen by the staff, this theme reflects the more mature interests of the student body at Heights.

In December the staff, attending the state convention at TWU in Denton, gathered ideas that enriched its efforts.

1961 marks the second year for the college size yearbook as well as the period devoted to publications work alone; however, the Yellow Jacket staff records several new trends here at Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. AHHS emerged in an effort to combine academic achievement with personality to find the outstanding student. The desire to stimulate the enthusiasm of the Student Council Valentine Dance brought about the King & Queen and their court. Recognizing those whose outstanding works merited local and national favor became the new "honor" section.

Annual day in May climaxed a year of creation and anticipation.

Co-editors Kay Padgett and Bob Hiett smile as they check progress made by staff.

"Good grief, Cedric! This picture will never pass the Censor Board," says horrified John Lowe. "I am the Censor Board, John," confides Cedric Snyder.

Faculty editor, Jane Van Orden and Class editors, Sharon Thompson, Barbara Knudsen and Penny Coughlen index the last of their pages.

"Come on guys, let's have an all red annual this year," sheepishly suggests Judy Higby, activities editor. Roxee Calinson, another activities editor and Beverly Browning, personalities editor, don't seem to mind.

Dianne Garrett, Susan Clough and Marcia Simms secretly discuss plans for their organization section.

Adding variety to the sports section this year are Bobby Fox and Joe Sanders.

Comparing art work for the '61 YJ with that of other schools are sponsor, Mrs. Oleta Epps and art editor, Prisci Keener.

Music On Parade

Sponsors G. H. Carson and Mrs. Mary White plan many enjoyable musical programs throughout the year.

The music department of Arlington Heights is one of the most active in the Southwest. It is divided into chorus, orchestra, and band. Here are represented students in the sextet and the lab band.

The members are chosen on a competitive basis by excellence of vocal merits. They meet many engagements during the year. At the beginning of the fall season they attend and participate in the Choral Clinic. Following the clinic are appearances at Monnig Jr. High, the FTA Banquet, school Christmas Program, Open House, the first Career night at Arlington Heights and all City Chorus Festival. This diligent group is one of the highlights of each choral program.

BLOW YOU HORNS!

BEAT! BEAT! DRUMS

Three years ago marked the beginning of a select group called the AHHS Lab Band. Its members are chosen through tryouts by sponsor G. H. Carson and leader Ronnie Puckett. Playing for special occasions is the primary purpose for the organization. Although it takes many hours of practice and work, the knowledge gained from the wide variety of experiences enables its participants to reach for the highest rewards of the musical world.

Chorus Sings To City

The musical notes from Heights honor-winning chorus bring great pleasure to many groups throughout the city.

Directed by Mrs. Mary White, students in the chorus start their busy schedule with attendance of the Choral Clinic at TWC. In their repertoire is everything from folk ballads to hymns which are presented in programs at Stripling, Monnig, at Christmas and spring assembly, Baccalaureate and graduation exercises. The Choral program gives students training in vocal and performing techniques, enrichment in appreciation, as well as widening their realm of friendships. They conclude the busy year with an annual picnic which is part reward for a job well done.

Orchestra Says It With Music

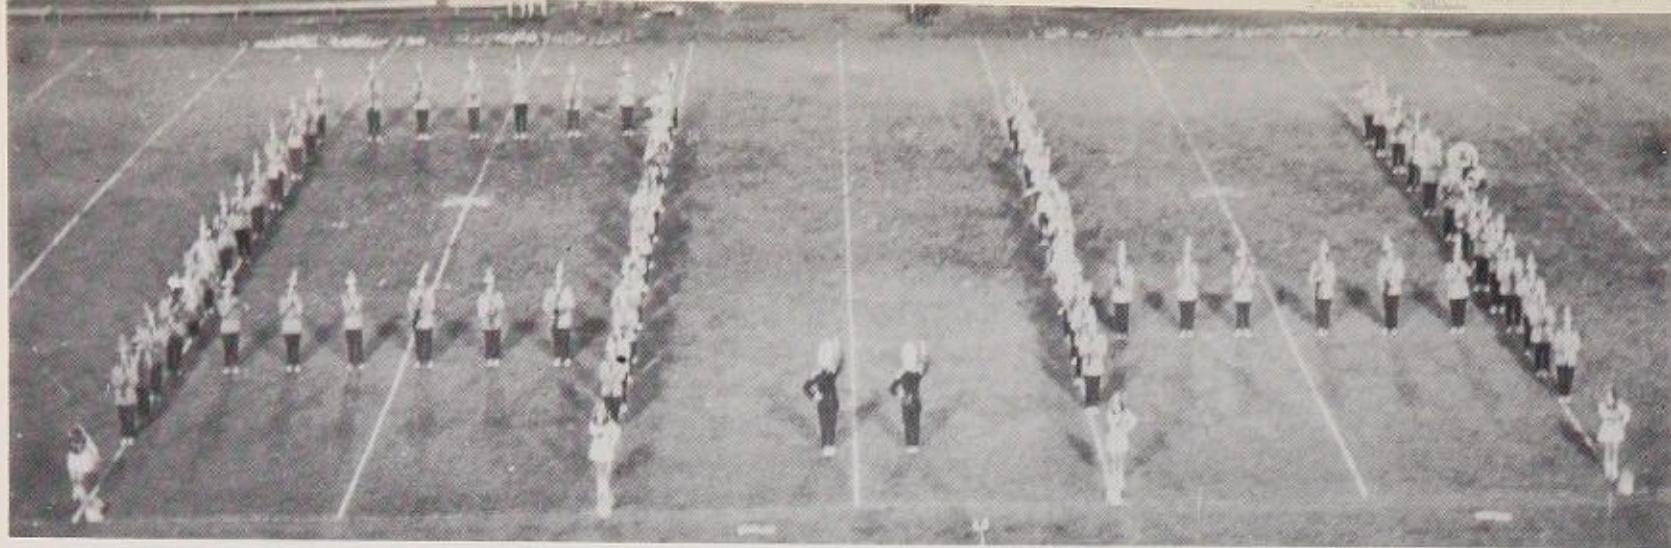

Being encouraged by the enthusiasm of G. H. Carson, the orchestra at Arlington Heights has become one of the outstanding assets of the music Department. They have made appearances at both Stripling and Monnig, and entertained the student body at Christmas, Open House and installment of officers.

These talented musicians compete in all state contests and for places in the All City and All-State orchestra. At the end of three years' participation, they receive 3rd year pins.

First Row: S. Wehmanen, B. Crawford, S. Harrington, C. Sowden, B. Thornton, S. Mills, L. Briley, K. Kemmerer, B. Felder.

Jacket Band Adds School Spirit

Two weeks before school began, the Jacket Band could be seen every morning at intensive drill and marching work. The first week officers received their briefing and pre-season marching assignments for all members. The remainder of the band joined them the following week for four hours of daily rehearsal.

A great majority of the noise and spirit at pep rallies and football games came from the band. Two concerts and the music at open house were some of their other contributions to school life.

Away from home the band made a first place showing in the Interscholastic League marching competition at TCU and participated in other contests throughout the year.

Performances in the Armistice Day Parade, Stock Show and Rodeo Concert, and concerts at both Stripling and Monnig were also part of the band's activities.

The Arlington Heights Music Festival attended by junior and senior high schools and a banquet concluded the year for the band.

First Row: C. Sowden, K. Sommer, S. Mills, B. Knudsen. Second Row: B. Felder, R. Alexander, R. Bennett, V. Horton, J. Vaughan, D. Jones, B. Crawford, A. McClure, M. Miller. Third Row: H. Cook, D. Registration

In the midst of mass confusion, a cool head is hard to find. Linda McMurray and Reisha Williams manage to appear in deep thought, or maybe they are just stunned beyond excitement. A well-planned, smooth-running school year is really the undercurrent of seemingly apparent confusion.

Unsuspecting Linda Zodin, Jane Cyrus and Don Burford register. Crowded Sherry Lowrey mutters, "Just wait 'til the moon is full—then I'll strike!"

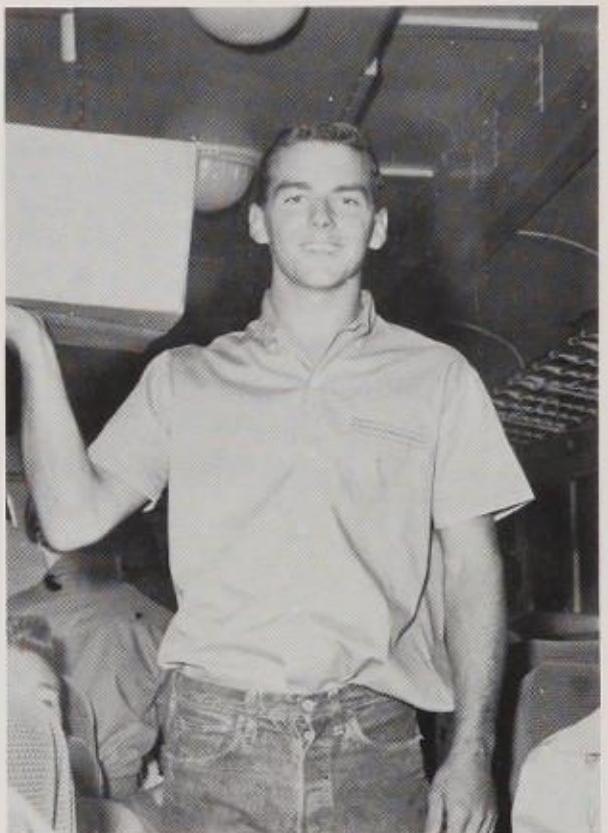

"Cheeze youse guys!" says Jan Luther. "You'd better win!"

Tee! Hee! Our boys are

"Pssst! Eudora, What is that smell?" murmurs Suzy Lee. "Agh! I don't know!" replies Miss Payne.

Away We Go!

Out Of Town Trips

Traveling by trains and buses supplies nearly all of the fun for an out of town game, except, of course, the fun of winning. The before and after of these trips often look like one in the same. Peggy Thornton, D. D. Dickey and Pam Ray struggle with their belongings excitedly. They enjoy sparks of small talk that spasmodically ignite screams of delight.

La la la! Jackets fight! Rah, rah rah! Jackets fight! Cha cha cha! Jackets fight! Go go go! Kay and Higby!

"The fact is dear fellow," philosophies Garret Drew, "the female population of this school can really raise the roof."

"Yoo hoo down there! Send my gum back up!" calls Joe Sanders.

"You spit it in my hand, you dope!" smiles Peggy Thornton.

"Come on, come on, we know we are the greatest! You can save your strength."

Sting 'Em, Jackets

Pep Rallies

Whether it's a contest between students or a yell for the coach, the meaning is the same: Heightsters want their boys to win! They think AHHS is tops, and these girls show it without hesitating. Many an exasperated girl has sat through a sixth period class barely able to talk because she tried to outyell her classmates. This year something new has been added to spirit-raising yells, a harmonizing accompaniment between lines supplied by big husky boys! If football and basketball games were a contest of spirit and enthusiasm, Heights would win every time!

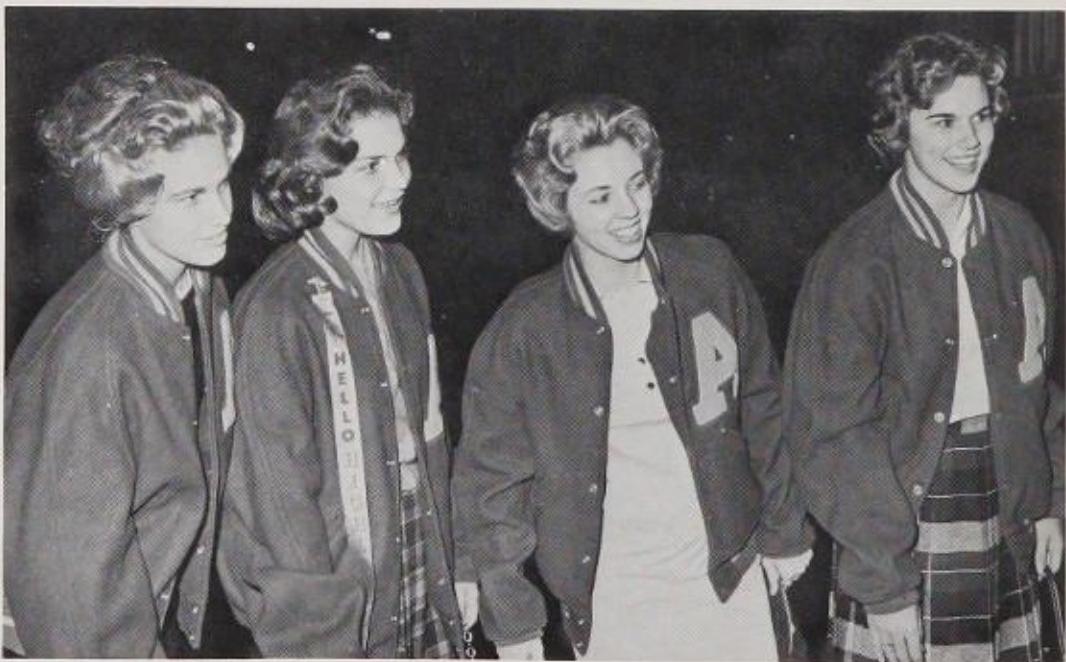

Eeeeeaaahhooowehoo! Sheena, queen of the jungle, want a banana!

"Say, Gibby, we're having a heat wave!" warns Paul Murray. "It is a little warm, but SAY, look out there!" answers Gibby Wooten.

"Ha! Ha! You think this helps, don't you?" laughs Betty Thornton.

"To the hill, to the hill, to the hill . . . no, no, NOT the hill!"

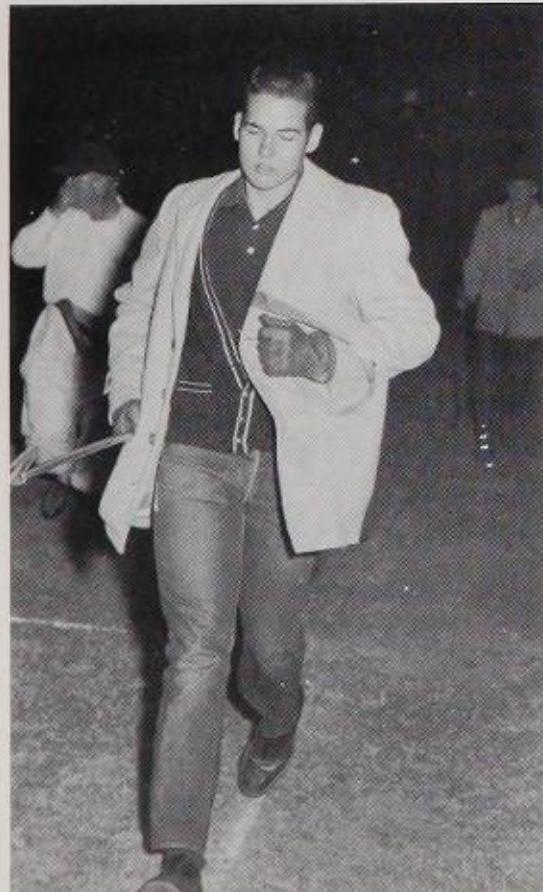

Pam Ray exclaims, "Hey, look!! They're in there running around like a bunch of wild Indians!" Jan Luther, Tappy Thompson, and Lynda Lovell stand by trying to see where their prize players are hiding.

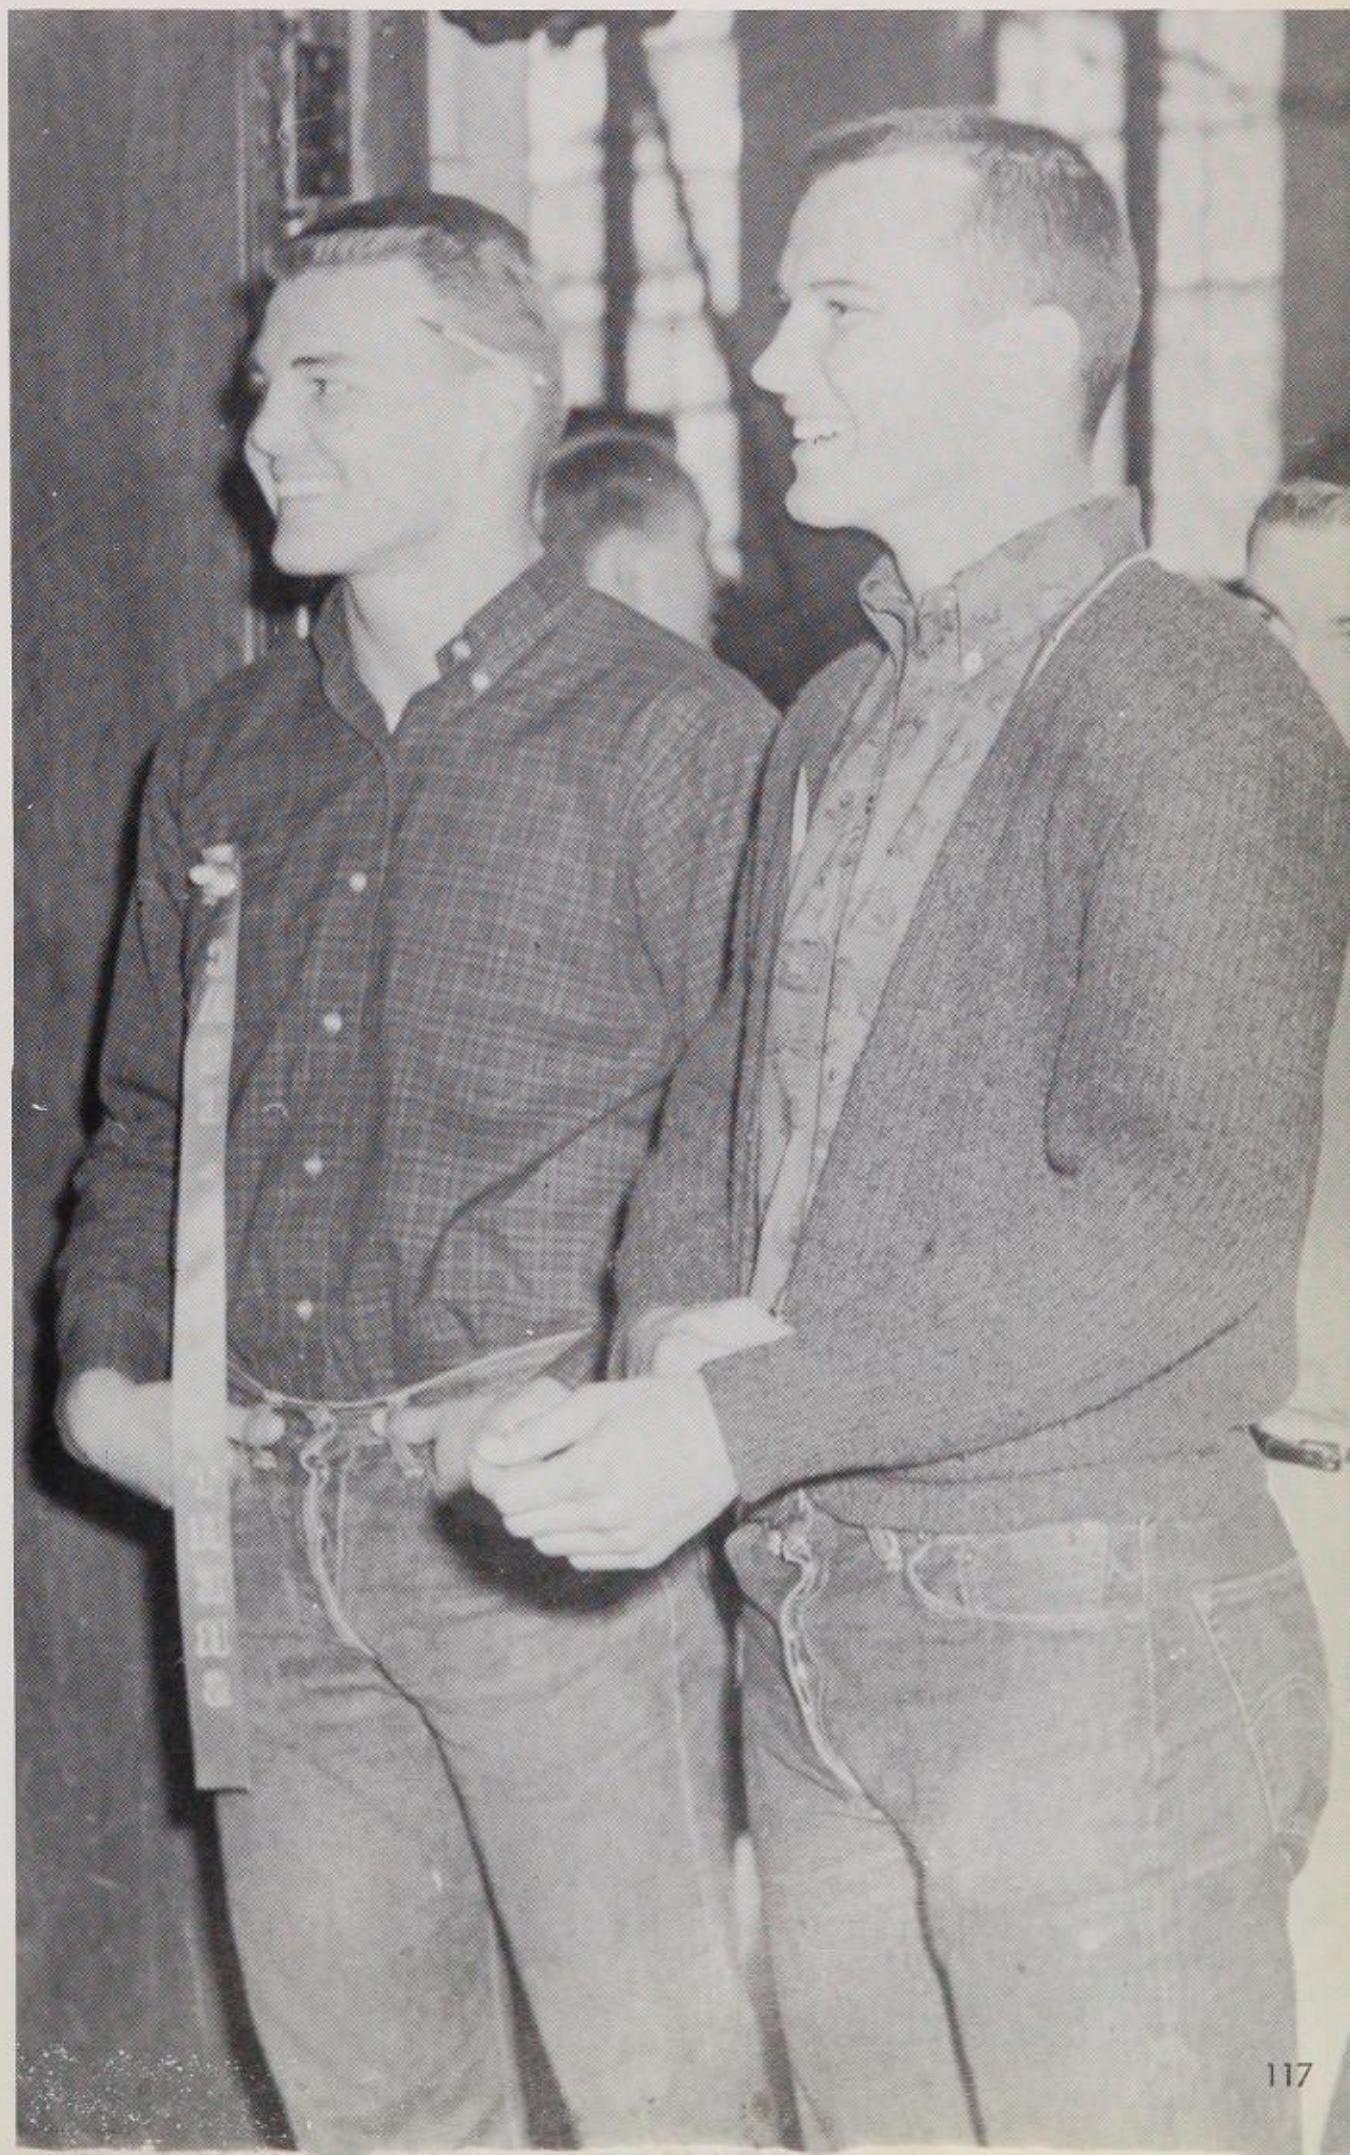

Having Fun, Everybody?

Game Activities

Welcome to the land of the winning Jackets. A happy Billy Snow and Mike O'Grady look very pleased after a victorious game. Many students often come back to the school after games to cheer the players. Anxious girls congratulate the boys for the game in which they played so well. The laughs and fun of a football or basketball game are made twice as good when the students enjoy the fellowship of an after game party.

"Ten more yards makes us on the WHAT! Ninety yard line?" muses David Walker.

"Up victory! Up! Up! . . . Up Victory! . . . Up Up! VICTORY . . . Aw forget it!" gripes Joe Sanders.

"O.K. Who's the guy in the purple suit?" drags Coach Ludiker.

"Listen Smiley Norman! I don't care who told you to put the cat out . . ." snarls a Paschal panther.

"Ooops! your slip is showing, Tommy Sarich."

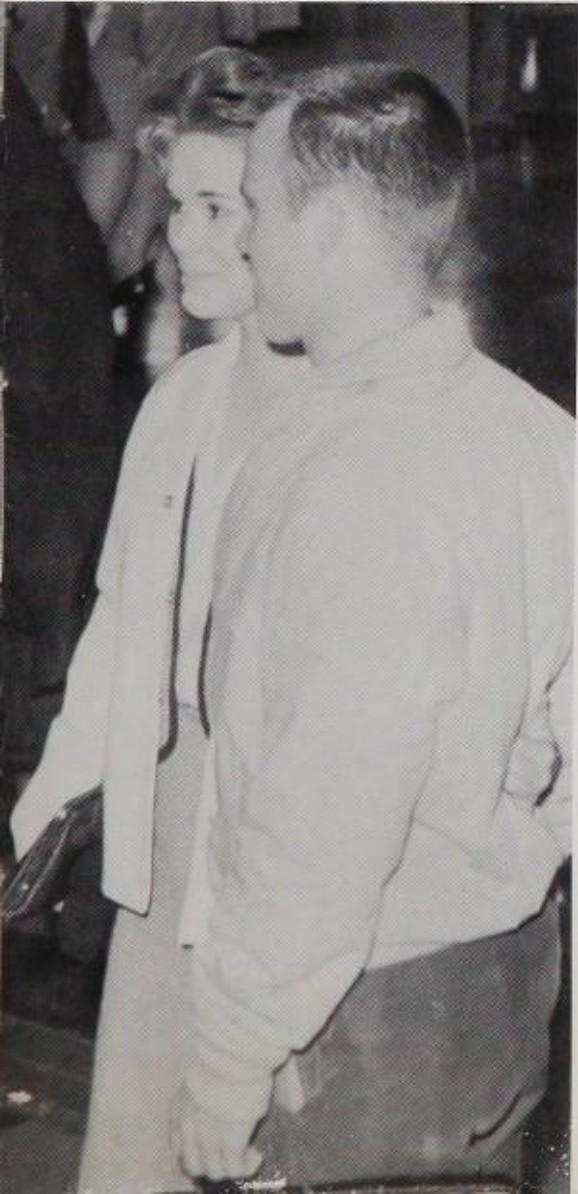

"My, my how you've grown, Rena Clark!"

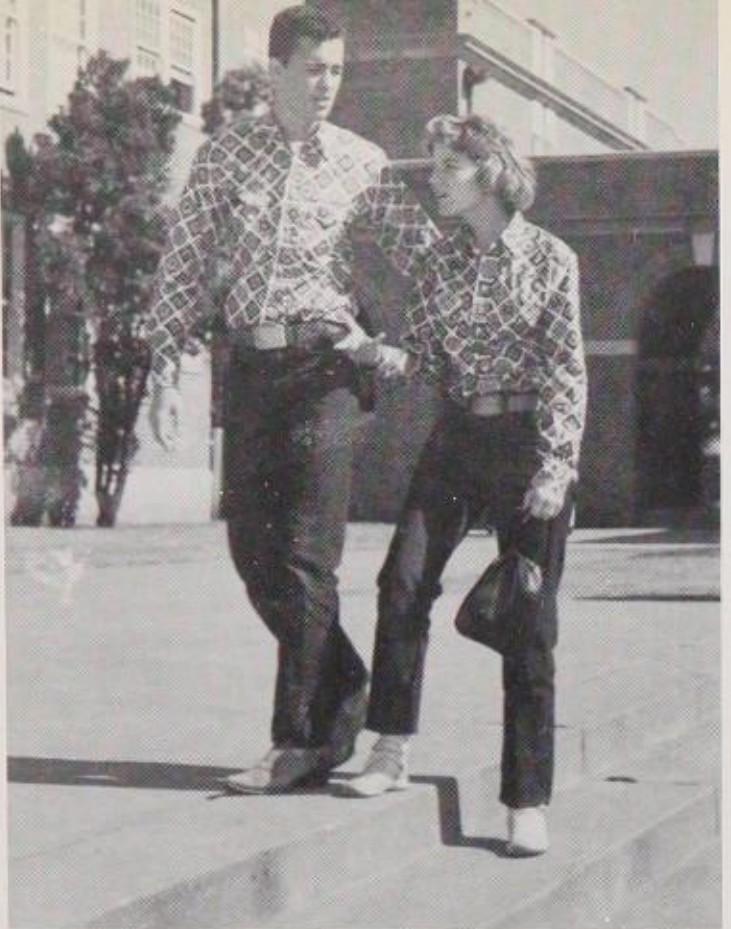

Pin the Panther?

Homecoming

Jackets really seemed to buzz when homecoming time came around this year. Heightsters buckled down and produced the best locker decorations ever. Wonder if Barbara Stone's homeroom won? They don't seem to be going by the "all work, no play" theme! Everyone tried to sneak out of classes to see his friends of years before at Heights. But after all, the spirit of it all is the important thing.

exclaim Dora Faye Sutton and Len Brantley.

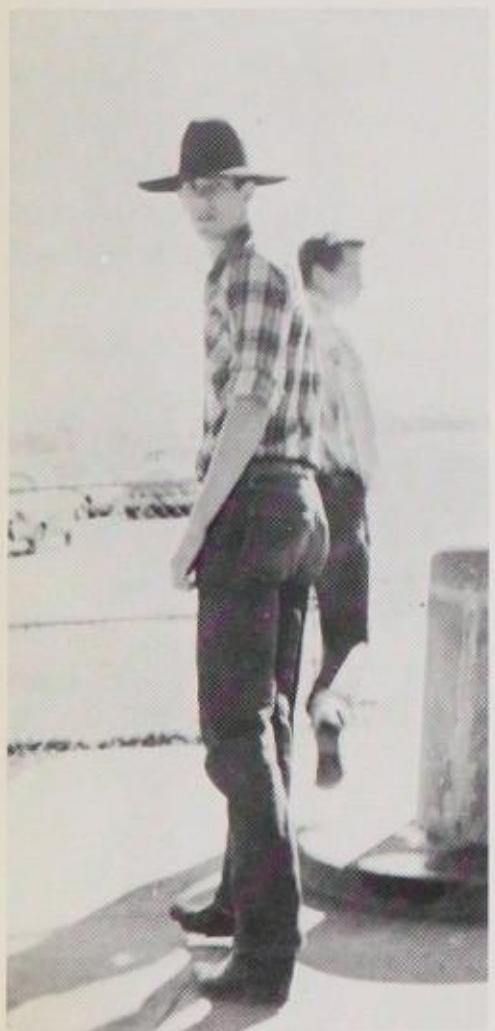

"Oh, Joe," complains Kay Keller, "Why did you leave the keys in the horse?!"

"Say, Judy!" smiles Kathy Aurin, "Get a load of that cowboy!" Not interested is the answer.

Scientific Scaggs mutters, "Let's see . . . weight times mass times diameter of rope . . . they should win . . ."

Farmer Brown, the tall Texan with a Texas size hat.

"Help!" yells Gayle Needham, "Don't brand me!" Lynda McGrath replies, "Well boys, when ever you're ready!"

Anybody for a Square Dance?

Ranch Day

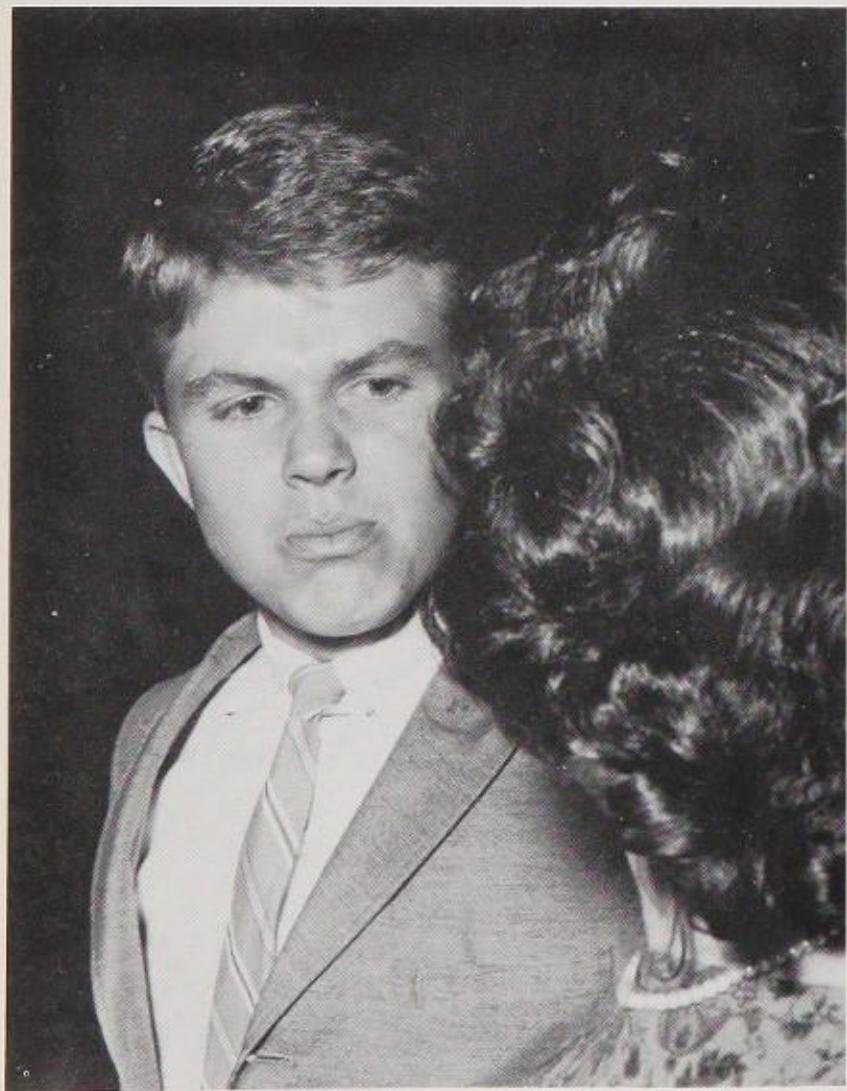

When ranch day rolled around, so did the old time square dances. Renee Paris does not seem as anxious as Kathie Aurin for another couple to complete their square, but she and Chris Waddle seem rarin' to go! This is the day when all sorts of wild happenings occur, such as riding piggy-back to Geometry and lassoing the teacher, or tug of war at lunch to practice calf roping. After all, it's just because we are TEXANS!!!

"A mile for every coke," laughs coach Morris to track boys while their dates look on.

"What's that blonde got that I haven't?" gripes Jane Van Orden.

"Even your best friends won't tell you," sniffs Jim Lane.

"Do ya, do ya, do ya want to dance?"

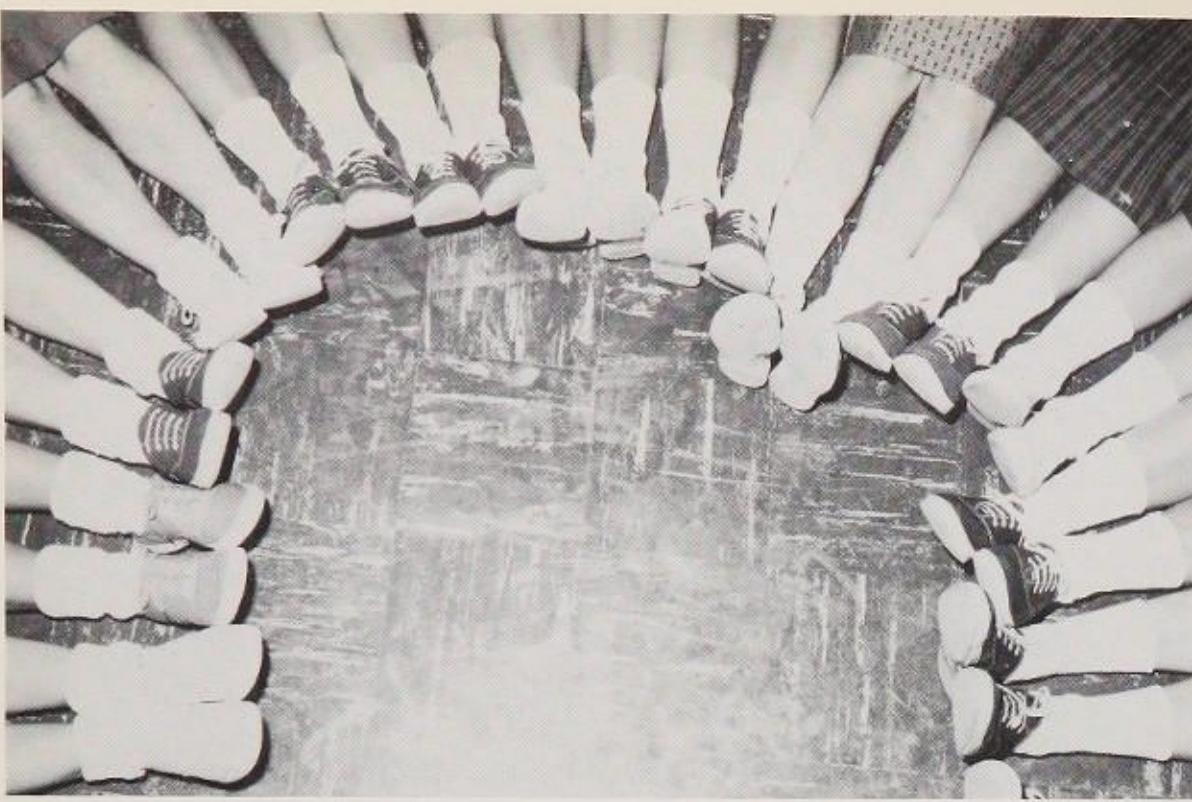

Please, Be My Valentine!

Valentine Dance

Student Council tried something novel which evidently was a success! King Billy Allison and Queen Sandy Barnes with their court were elected in a most unique way. After being nominated at school, the nominees and their dates came to the school dance where they were voted upon by the students present. Decorations, furnished by the art department, were exceedingly elaborate. With this new election an exciting activity was born.

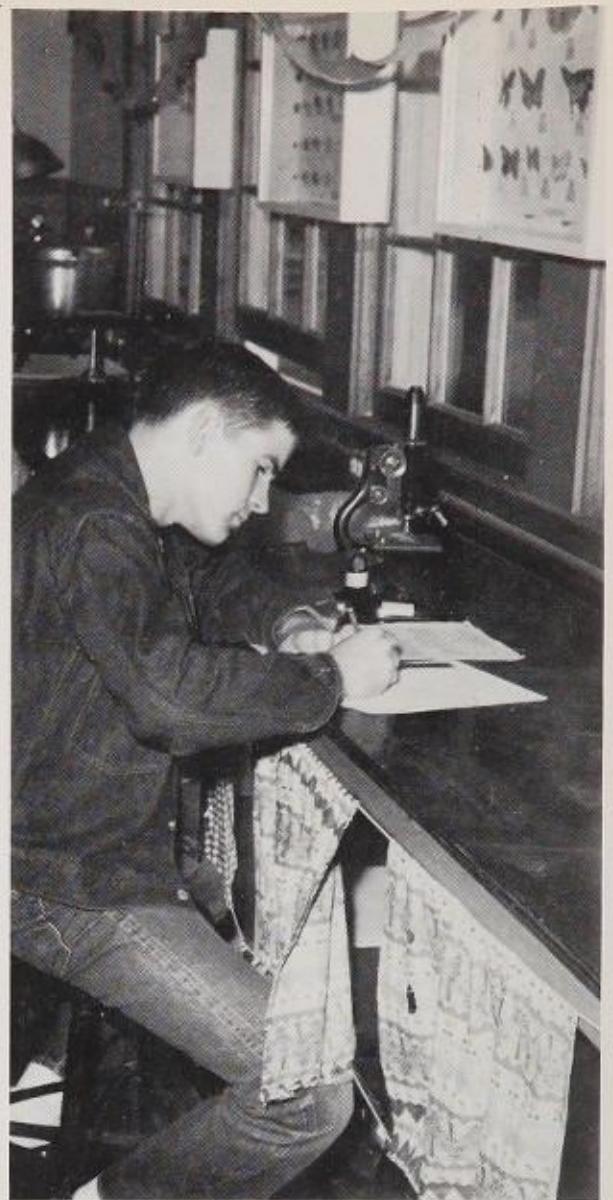

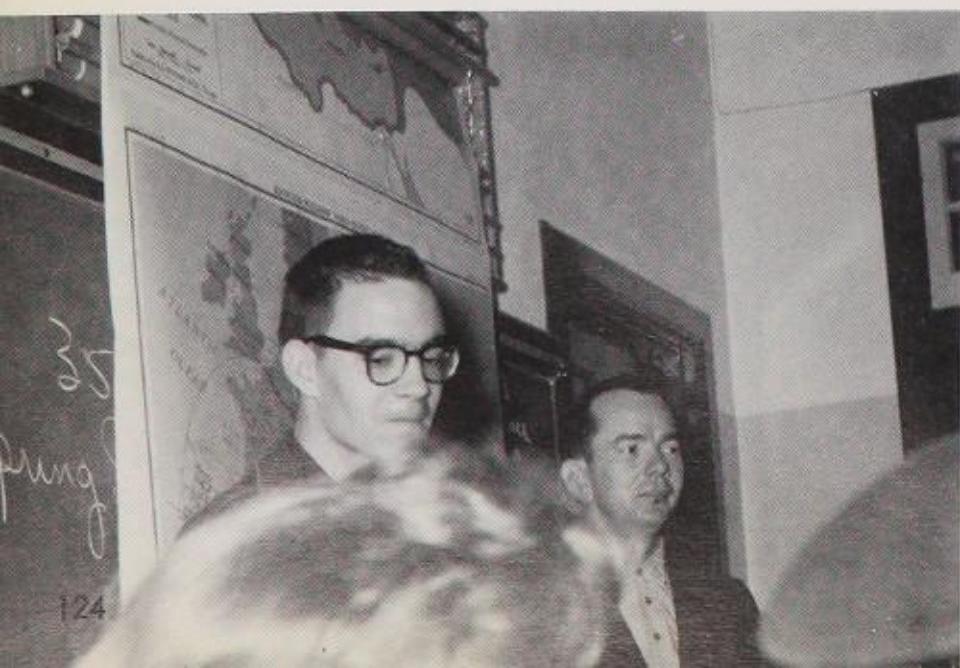

This little piggy is a Heightster; this little piggy wore tennis shoes!!!!

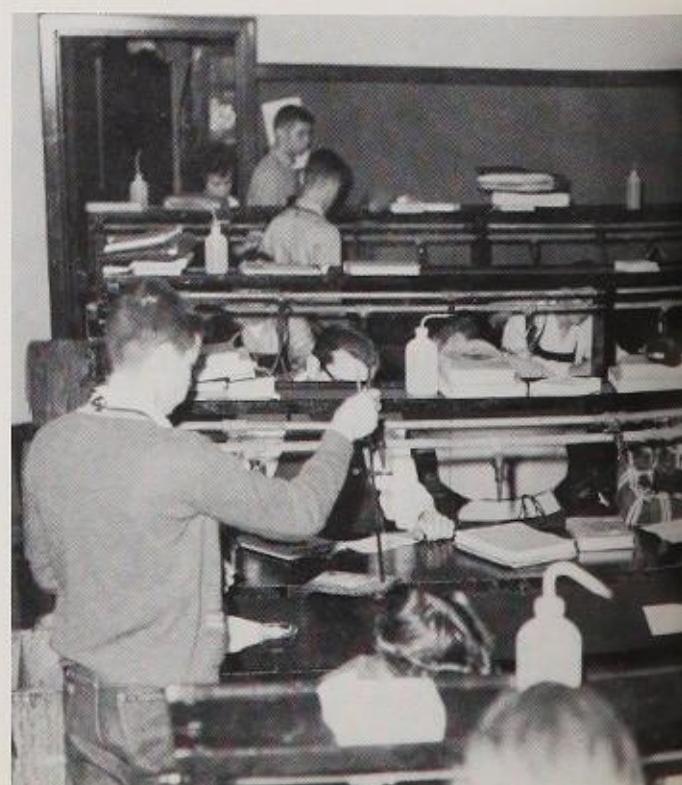

"Oh, you cute thing! (Don't you dare bite me!)" laughs
Patty Pownder.

"My, some people do have big heads, don't they?" realizes Fredrick Tart.

"Maybe Mr. Arseneau wouldn't notice if I just tore the page out of the book and turned it in - - -," plans Lyndell Kirkley.

Glenn Harrison treds lightly in high hopes nothing will explode!

Happy Birthday-Who?

Through the Halls of Heights

Birthday parties, a tennis shoe strike, or rats running loose in the biology lab are only a few of the many happenings carried on throughout the day. Ann Hooker seems to be inviting us to a birthday party. Could it be for Jo Hansen, Judy Buschbaum, or Roxee Calinson? No one seems to know, but all are evidently enjoying themselves. Students learn how to have fun as well as how to work hard through the halls of Heights.

Coaches Ruggieri, Ludiker and Runnels map out a sure play in one of their many hours of blackboard planning.

"A" Team managers for the football campaign were Charles Kendall, John Burk, Jerry Ball and James Hargrove.

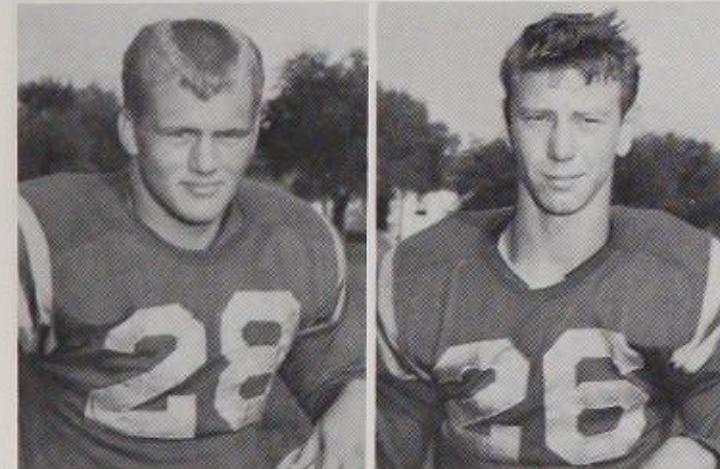

Playing halfback on this year's team were Jimmy Abshire, Larry Allen, Ronnie Arnold, and Bobby Bozeman.

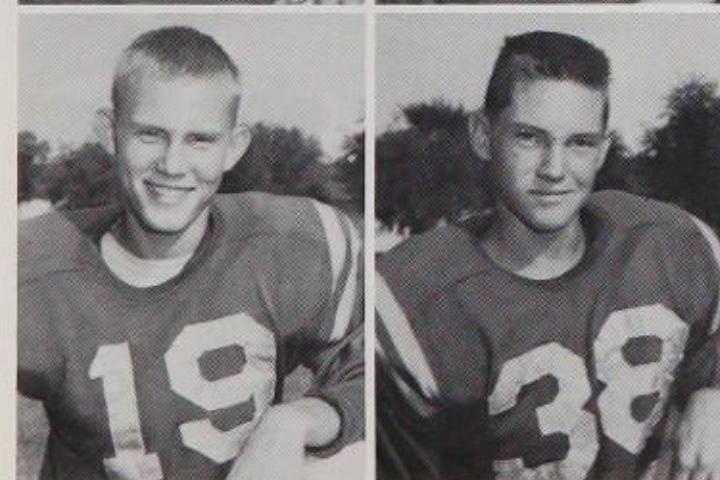

"Now I lay me down to sleep . . ." a Highland Park boy says his prayers as he is snowed under by Bozeman (30), Anderson (50), Decker (18), Rowland (45), and Truelson (85).

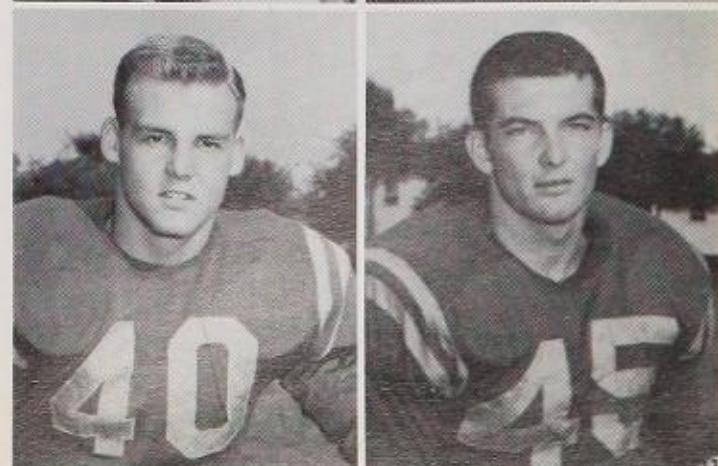

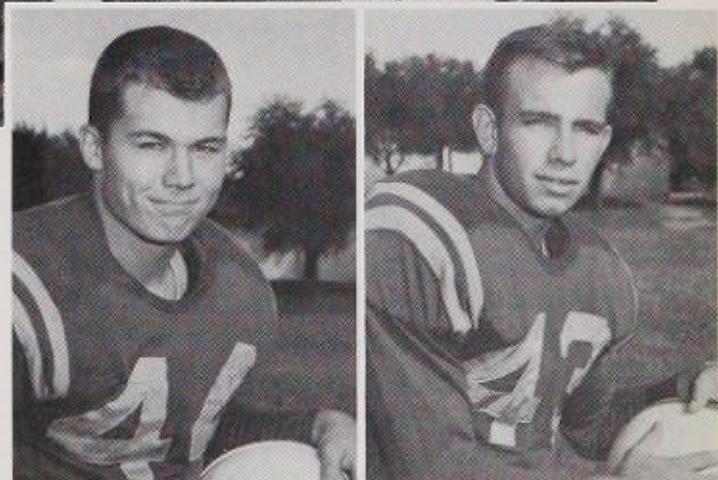

"Last one squattin' is it," cries Larry Allen as Birdville players oblige.

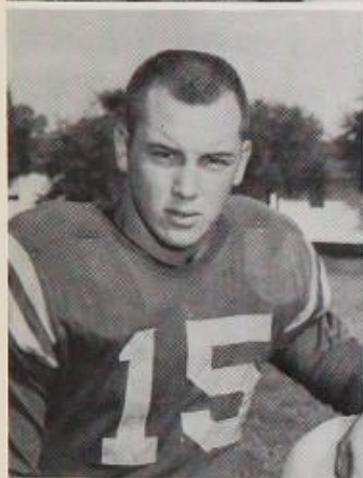

Other halfbacks were Lonnie Clover, David Cromwell, Roger Cutchin, and Tommy Fisher. (Left)

Playing fullback were Ed Fitzgerald, Jon Freelo, Mike O'Grady, and Charles Rowland. (Right)

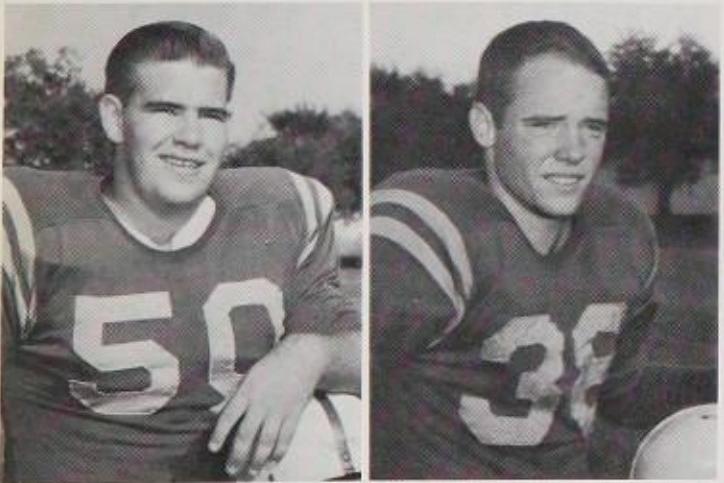

Quarterbacks John Higley, Jeff Jarvis, and Sonny Robbins were on the receiving end of a lot of center Paul Decker's snaps.

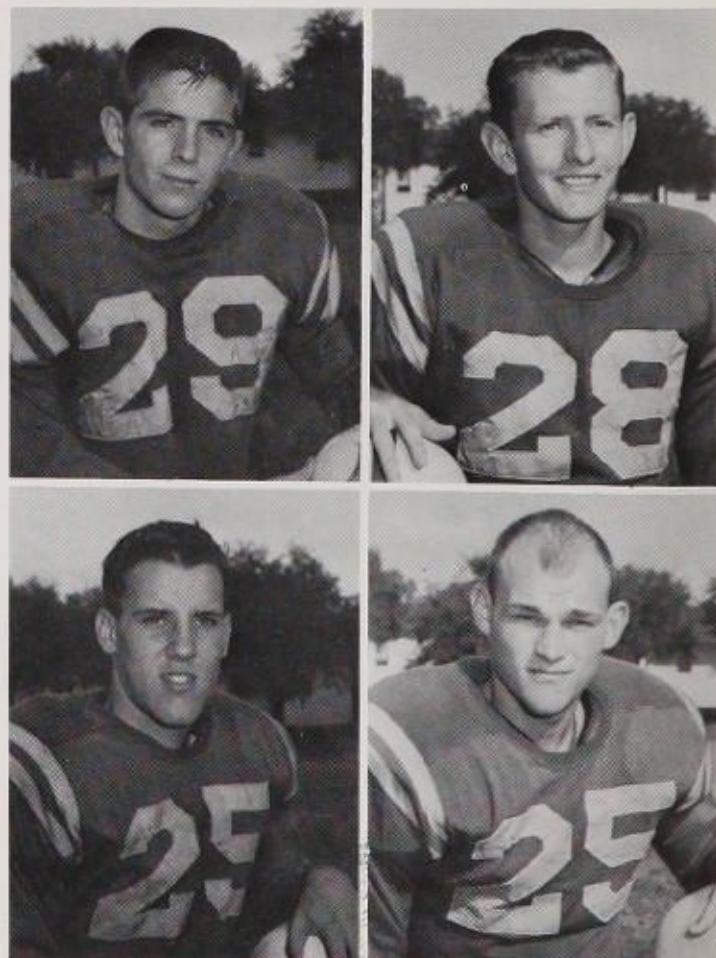

The pound of hoofbeats, a cloud of dust, and a hearty hi ho... Honeybear rides again.

Man, Do you see that Blond?" asked Jimmy Thompson to Mike Andrews. Apparently John Higley does.

Playing end this year were John Deutchendorf, Vince Hendrick, Bill Lucas, Pat Nanney, and Johnny Maag.

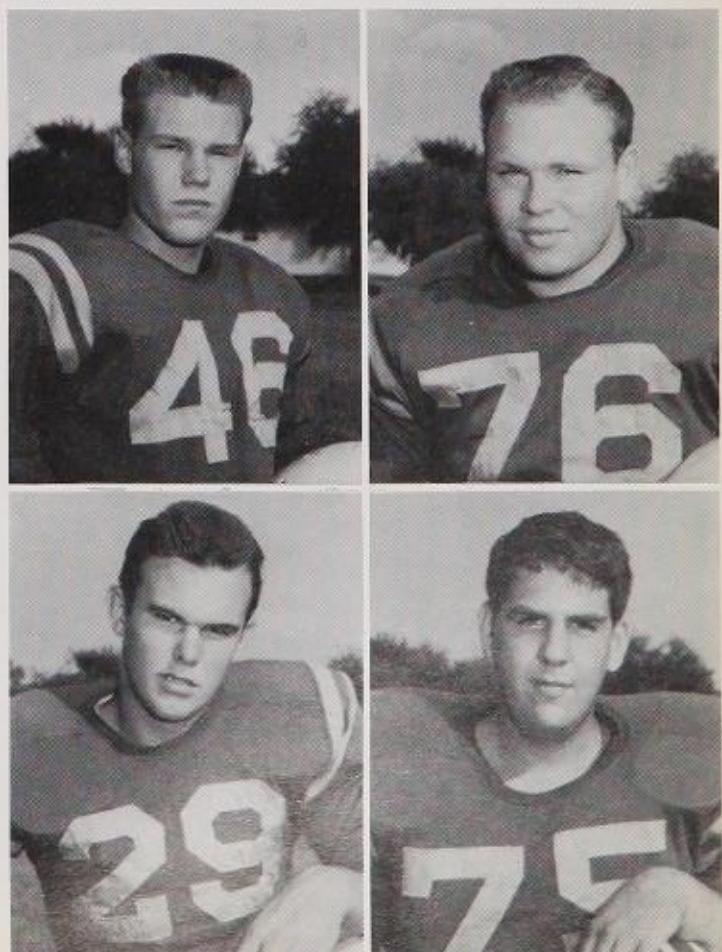

"Sorry I was a few seconds late," says Jimmy Thompson.

Also playing end were Steve Sari, Mike Strange, Jimmy Thompson, and John Truelson. (Left)

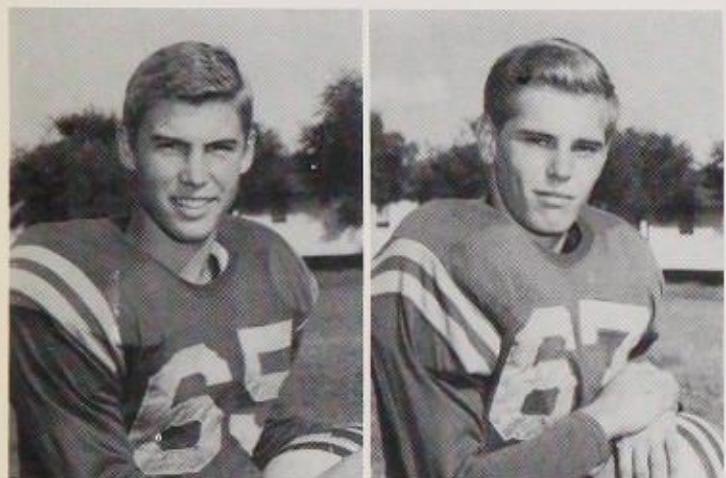

Playing tackle this year were Dick Braziel, Jim Davis, Terry Haney, and Jim Johnson. (Right)

"Oh, goody, goody!" exclaims a Tech player, jumping up and down with glee, when Big Bill Lucas (84) is tackled after catching a pass for a long gain.

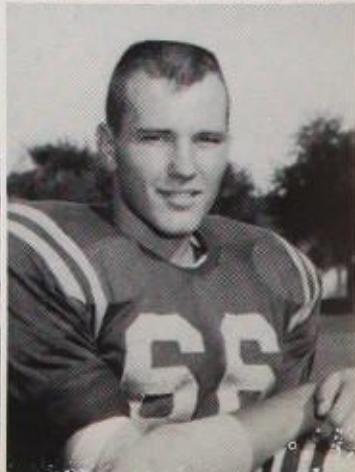

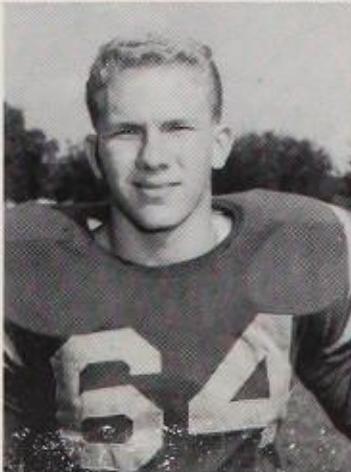

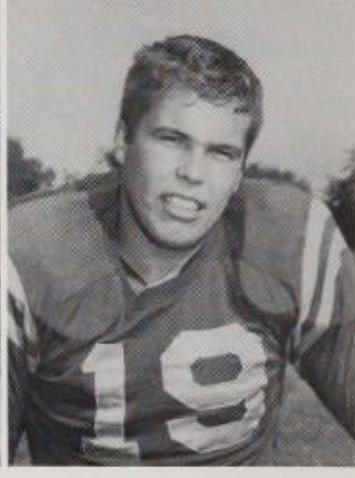

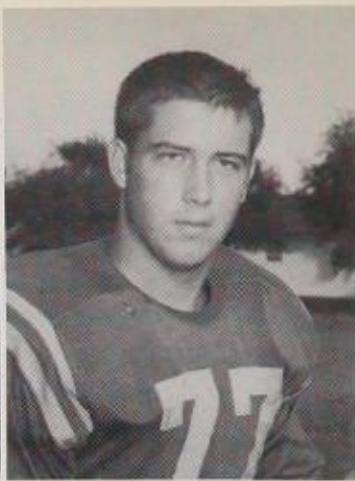

Mike Andrews, Jerry Baker, Jack Provine and Kim Smith all played guard.

"It'll take more than one of you," says Jeff Jarvis, eluding an Eastern Hills boy.

"Speak to me! Speak to me!" a Tech boy is saying to his teammate who was tackled by Thompson (87) and an unidentified Heights boy. Snow (66) looks on in wonder.

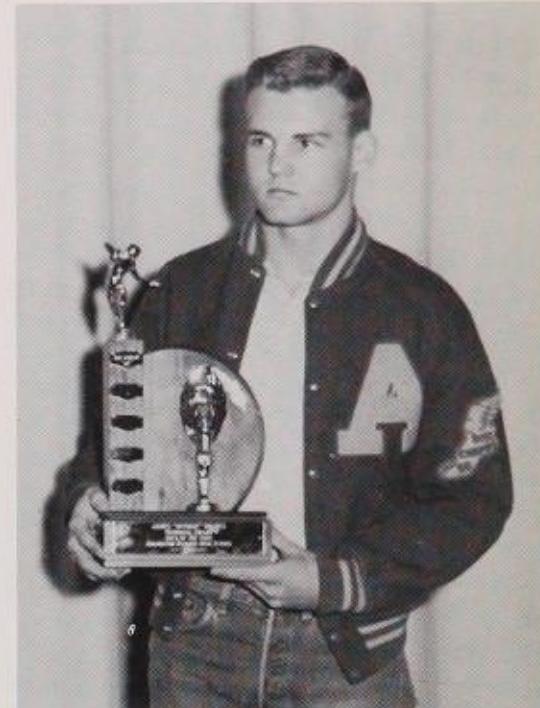

O'Grady Receives Holmes Award

James Holmes

This award, given to the outstanding AHHS backfield player, was created by the players and cheerleaders in memoriam to James "Sparky" Holmes, killed in the spring of 1960 in a tragic automobile accident. He was not only an outstanding football player, but also an all-round athlete, leading the city in passing and in broken field running. He is remembered for his outstanding leadership, team work and spirit, and good sportsmanship.

This year's recipient, co-captain on the team, was an all-district selection as fullback, and he was third in the city as rusher. According to the coaches at Heights, Mike O'Grady best exemplified the qualities of leadership, sportsmanship and team work required to win the award.

Season's Record

The fighting Yellow Jackets began the season on a sweet note by capturing the Rebels of Tascosa, 7-0 in a powerful show of strength and size by this year's team.

The next week the team journeyed to Birdville and rode herd on the Buffalos, coming out on the top of a 26 to 13 score.

Making their first home appearance, the AHHS gridmen showed no mercy, and the Harvesters of Pampa went home empty handed, losing the game, 23-0.

The first quarter was all Arlington Heights, but sickness and injuries kept the Jackets from defeating Highland Park, then ranked number 2 in the state. The Jackets lost 38-0.

The Tech Bulldogs' barks were worse than their bites so "Ruggieri's Bears" took revenge for the defeat of the week before and ate them up to the tune of 34-8.

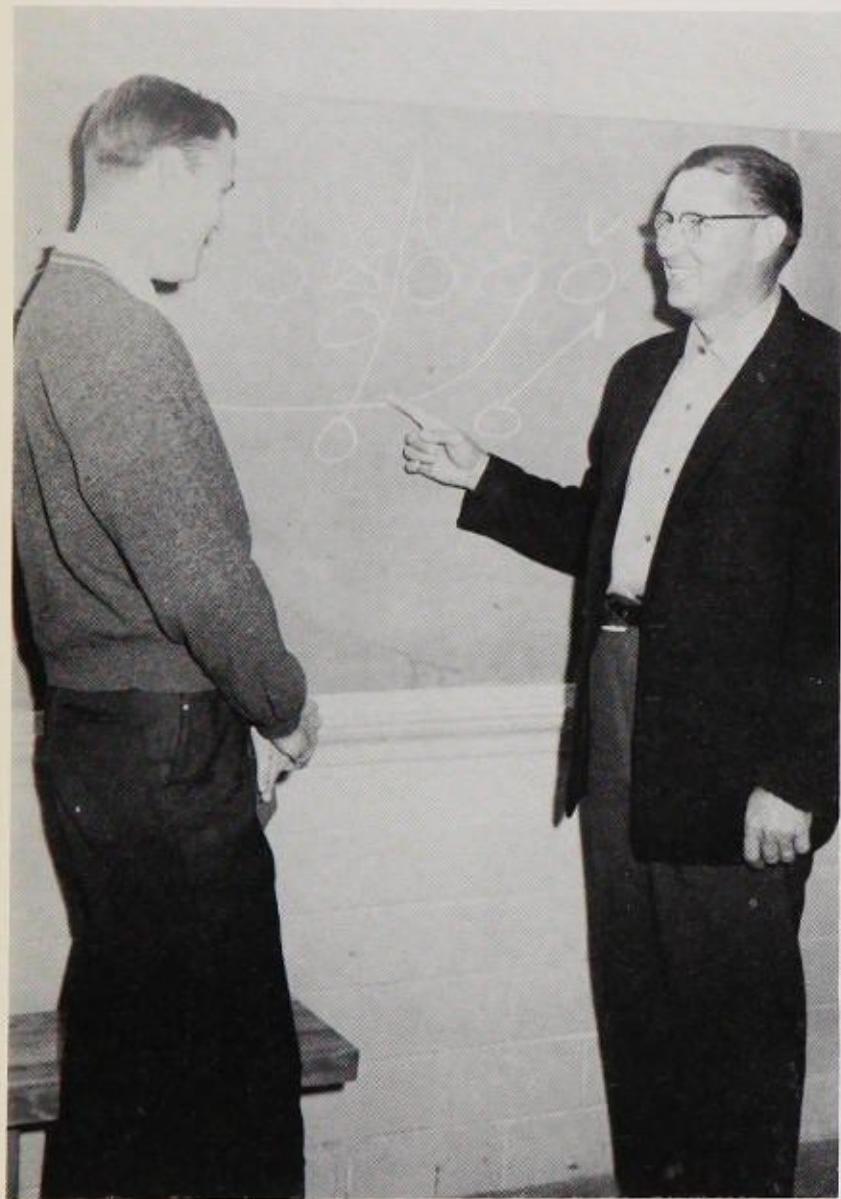

In a game Heights expected to win, the steers of North Side outpointed the Jackets by 20-19.

The Poly Parrots squawked but that was about all; consequently the Yellow Jackets flew home with a 14-0 win. Eastern Hills could do no right and Heights could do no wrong as the Yellow Jackets ran wild in a 27-0 victory. Heights' "Homecoming" was again marred as Paschal, one of the state's semi-finalists, won the hard fought game, 13-0.

The AHHS "Eleven" tried to bounce back and win the final game but Carter Riverside got the breaks and won by a touchdown, 6-0.

"B" Team coaches Joe Prater and L. B. Morris cook up another play designed to help insure another victory.

Managers aiding the "B" Team this year were Larry Gustafson, Ray Krottinger, Johnny Clark, Tommy Christian, and Bob Moor.

Basketball

Jackets Grab Second In District Play

This year's Yellow Jacket basketball team compiled one of the best season records in the recent history of the school. Led by Captains Ronny Ford and Hank Wendorf, the team breezed by every district member except Paschal, to whom they lost twice.

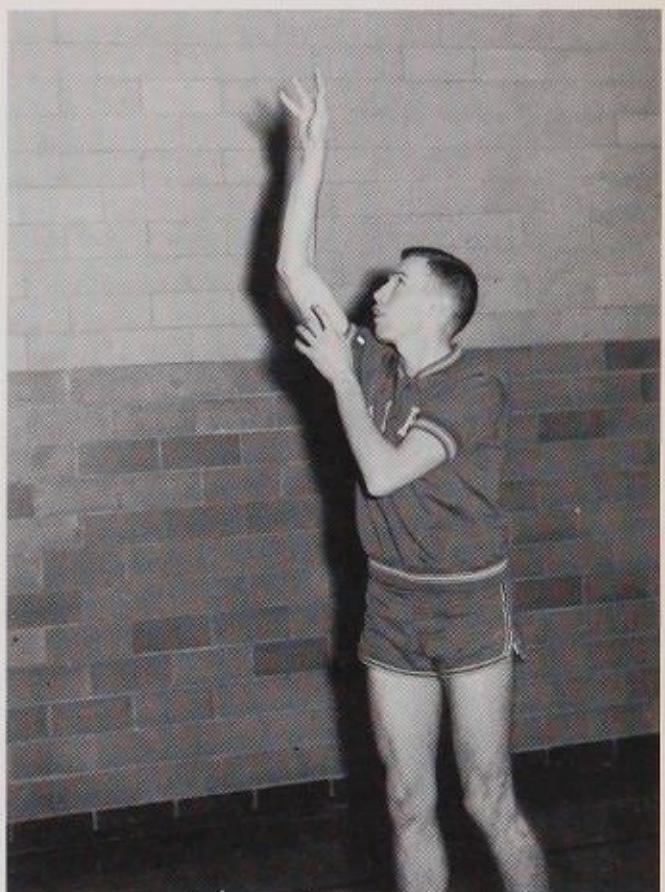

The team missed by 5 points of setting a new city scoring record in their 2nd game with Eastern Hills, and Hank Wendorf, who also set a new city scoring record, had the honor of being named to the second team in all-state selections.

Cross-Country

The Cross-Country team of Arlington Heights during the fall campaign, did very well and was representative of things to come in the spring. After tying for first in their initial encounter the trackmen went on to win the rest of their meets and placed third in state. Many hours of practice and work resulted in their ability to compile such a fine record.

Morris Inspires Indoor Meet

Coach Morris's vision of the first Indoor Track Meet held in the Southwest became a reality this past season. The extravaganza, held in Will Rogers Coliseum, was a resounding success, due largely to the backing and organization performed by Coach L. B. Morris. Athletes from every state bordering Texas, including two Olympians, competed. Arlington Heights, the high school champion, ran away from the high school field in scoring 73 points.

Arnold crosses the line after winning second place in the indoor meet.

Track managers Bob Moor and Paul Decker check closely on the accuracy of their watches.

Practicing handoffs are Dan Woody and Gene Rattan.

Jon Houp is shown breaking the 880 record in the Rec Meet in 1:56.5 seconds.

Showing good form in practice are Tom Patton, Bill Lomerson, and Billy Allison.

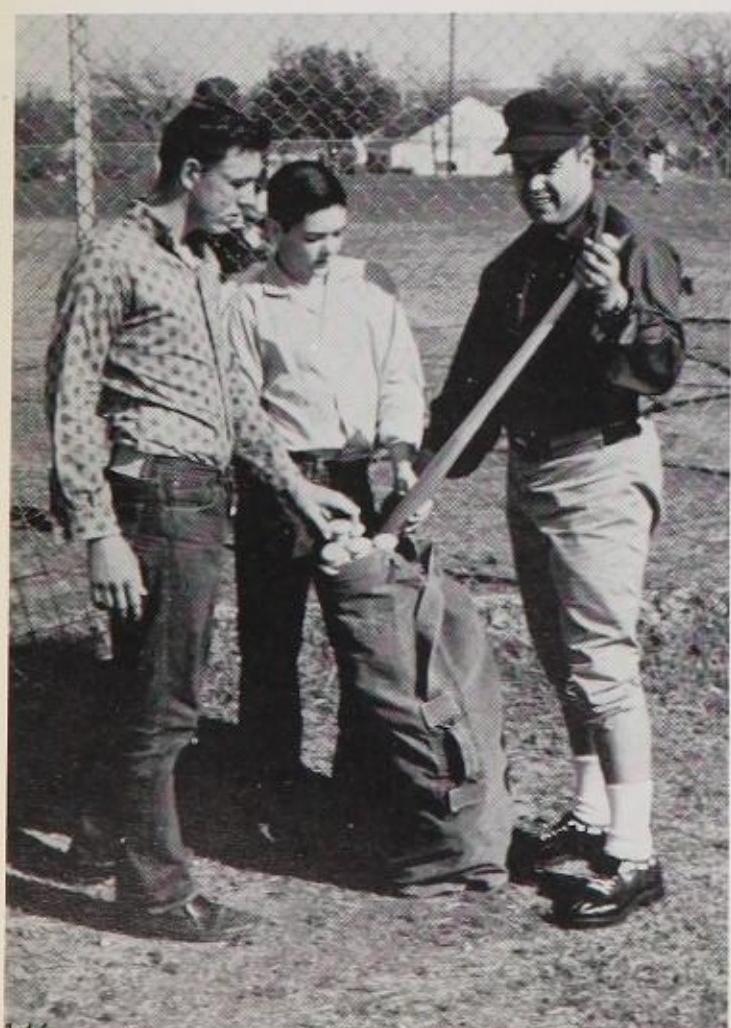

Brock takes off after receiving baton from Houp in mile relay during Rec Meet.

Carter crosses the line after anchoring the 440 relay team to win in a practice meet.

Miss A.H.H.S.
Mary Lou McCreless

Mary Lou is one of the most outstanding seniors in her spirit, scholarship and civic contributions. Trust in her leadership was revealed when she was elected secretary of the Library Club her junior year, president of FTA and Young Citizens' Forum her senior year and an ROTC sponsor. As an "A" honor student, a member of "J" club and a recipient of the Leonard's and DAR awards, she has demonstrated her scholarship. Varied interests have enabled her to be chosen Outstanding Volunteer and a delegate to the White House Convention.

Mike's wide interests and outstanding abilities are two of the main reasons he was elected Mr. AHHS. Junior Favorite runner-up, Mike has participated in track and football three years, lettering in both as a junior. As a senior he was co-captain of the football team, All-District fullback and was awarded the James Holmes Memorial Award for his leadership, sportsmanship and teamwork.

Most Athletic

Carolyn Cody

Carolyn excels in all sports, especially volley ball, being a three year member of the city volley ball team and a two year letterman. As a sophomore she was one of the few who received a letter in GIC. This member of the "advanced" PE class has also applied for a National Athletic Scholarship.

Billy Snow

As a three year letterman in football and a participant in track and baseball, Billy is a member of the "A" Club. This year he was elected captain of the football team, chosen All-District guard and selected for the All-State second team.

Most Studious

John Higley

John, an honor student, is a member of "J" Club, "A" Club, Student Council, and Young Citizens' Forum. He has served as HR president, and he has received the Leonard's award.

Susan Clough

As an "A" honor student, Susan is a recipient of the Leonard's award. This "J" Club member has been HR president 3 years, secretary of the Science Club, and a member of the annual staff and the Young Citizens' Forum.

Honors

The name of Arlington Heights High School is known over the state and nation through students who have achieved outstanding honors which give their school, teachers, and family much credit. The Yellow Jacket Staff has created this new segment, titled Honors, with the purpose of recognizing and congratulating these students. They were selected when their achievements along with recommendations were brought to the attention of the staff.

The first is Anna Marie Hawkins, chosen by Westinghouse through a competitive examination and her research paper, as one of the forty most promising scientists in the nation. She went to Washington D. C. to compete for further honors.
